Q. IV. What Ministers have DIED since the last Conference?

A. 1. In Great Britain, the thirty-one following:—

(1.) ISAAC KEELING; who was born at Newcastle-under-Lyne, February 12th, 1789, and died at Ripon, August 11th, 1869, after a career of eighty years, marked by a unity, consistency, and completeness rarely exhibited. He was from childhood grounded in the doctrines of Christianity, and blessed with the influences of the Holy Spirit. As he approached manhood, he was for a season led astray by a sceptical bias; but from that danger he was graciously saved, and in his eighteenth year he entered into the peace of acceptance with God through Christ. From that time his religious and his intellectual advancement kept pace: delivered from all doubt, whether of mind or heart, he read much and studied deeply; cultivated sedulously good natural endowments, and intermeddled with a great variety of knowledge. A Divine vocation directed him very soon to theology; and he made the best use of the means at his disposal to acquaint himself with the Scriptures, and with the Methodist system of doctrine. Hence, when at the Conference of 1811 he was received as a probationer for the ministry, his Biblical and Theological preparations were more than ordinarily full, and he gave rich promise of early ripeness and excellence. He rose rapidly to the maturity of his powers as a Minister of the Gospel, and few of his contemporaries were privileged to continue so long, and with such unabated strength, in the exercise of the sacred function. As a preacher, Mr. Keeling had a sharply-defined individuality. In essentials one with his brethren, in many of his characteristics he stood apart and alone. A keen observer and critic of the preaching of his day, he formed and adhered to his own ideal: he imitated no man, and in his own sphere could by none be imitated. He held firmly through life to the fundamental truths of the Gospel; but these he made the centre of a widely-expanded circumference, embracing more or less all the ample material furnished by human life and the human heart, and the Book of God that interprets both. It was his aim to make the Bible, as a whole and in every part, the subject of pulpit-instruction. He delighted to lead his hearers through the less frequented paths of Scripture, and to expound to them its narratives, biographies, and personal examples of evil and of good. As the minister of God to the conscience, he took great pains in the unfolding of character, in the detection and appreciation of motive, and in the application of the Divine standard of morals to men's private, social, and public life. In his anxiety to guard against a one-sided exhibition of the grace of the Gospel, he might have seemed in some discourses to preach at too great a distance from the Cross; and to take for granted sometimes fundamental principles that need constant enforcement. But those who waited on his habitual teaching knew him to be a faithful minister of the Reconciliation; and that, though the sun was not always visible in the sphere of his ministrations, there was nothing in them hid from the heat thereof. His style of discourse was dignified;

his diction chaste and select, even to severity; and the construction of his sermons symmetrical and clear. His delivery was passionless, and there was nothing in it that could be called gesture: during the greater part of his ministry he owed absolutely nothing of his effectiveness to physical effort; yet the effect he produced, through God's blessing, was great: many might be repelled by the monotonous and unsensational character of his elocution, but many more were riveted by the serene gravity and grace of his utterance. As a public man, Mr. Keeling early won, and always held, the confidence of his brethren. His clear judgment, practical sagacity, large views of men and things, and loyal heart, served the Connexion in many offices of trust; and in none more eminently than in the Presidential chair. After more than half a century of active service, he spent the last six years of his life in retirement. The religion that had sustained him through a long and honourable ministry did not fail him in his decline: it was most lovely and most effectual at the close. God blessed him with the use of his unclouded faculties to the end. In his own house he gave instruction and diffused peace from day to day,—full of thankful memories of God's dealings with himself and with His people, cherishing a warm interest in the affairs of the present life, but keeping his eye always fixed on the life to come. He did not abound in outward demonstrations of his faith and hope; but it was evident to those around him that his heart burned within him as he drew near to the grave. Among the last cares of his life, was the preparation of a volume of sermons, which he leaves as some memento of his ministry. He died as he lived, in the "quietness and confidence" of faith in Jesus.

(2.) Charles Locking; who was born at Hull, August 8th, 1840. His parents, who feared God above many, instilled into his mind truths which were made the power of God to his salvation. In passing through his scholastic training the fervour of his youthful piety was somewhat endangered, but he was preserved from sin. From a conviction of duty he became a candidate for our ministry, and in 1860 was sent to Didsbury.

His piety, kindness, and manliness endeared him to his fellow-students, and he was highly esteemed by his Tutors. He laboured in the various Circuits to which he was appointed, diligently, faithfully, and successfully. He read carefully, and was painstaking in his preparation for the pulpit. His sermons were "not in word only, but also in power, and in the Holy Ghost, and in much assurance." Whilst pleased with the prospect of labour in the Circuit to which by the last Conference he was appointed, and cherishing desires of increasing usefulness, he was attacked by a disease which removed him in a few days from a world of trial to one of everlasting enjoyment. He died August 21st, 1869, in the thirtieth year of his age, and the seventh of his ministry.

(3.) Benjamin Field; who was born at Sevenoaks, in the year 1823. By the influence of Divine grace, and through the instruction, example, and prayers of pious parents, he was restrained in early life from open sin; and when twelve years of age, under the ministry of the late Rev. Thomas Collins, he was converted to God, and from that time maintained and adorned a Christian profession. In his seventeenth year he began to preach, and did so with an intelligence, power, and success which convinced those who heard him that he was called to the full work of the Christian ministry. He was accepted by the Conference, and after spending the usual term at the Theological Institution, he received, in 1846, an appointment to India; where, as well as subsequently in various important Circuits at home, he laboured with great acceptance and success. In 1866, his health, which had long been delicate, so far failed as to compel him to become a Supernumerary. His piety was deep, earnest, and progressive. By the careful cultivation of mental faculties originally good, and by a diligent and devout study of the Holy Scriptures, he became an able and effective Minister of Christ. To efficiency in the pulpit he added the assiduous and wise discharge of pastoral duty. He evinced a special sympathy with the young, and attracted to himself the esteem and affection of all the people of his charge. In the hope of prolonging his life, he went to Australia, where, notwithstanding sore affliction and painful bereavement, he continued to labour, often beyond his strength, in preaching that Gospel which he loved, and in whose precious truths he himself found his chief solace and support. Many of his later days were spent in the compilation of a "Handbook of Christian Theology," a work which evinces both literary taste and ability, and a considerable extent of theological knowledge. One of his last letters contains these words: "All my sympathies, affections, and desires are with things spiritual and Divine; and I trust that through Him who 'liveth, and was dead,' and is 'alive for evermore,' I shall find an entrance through the gates into the city." He died at Melbourne, Australia, September 1st, 1869, in the forty-seventh year of his age, and the twenty-fifth of his ministry.

(4.) JOHN LLOYD; who was born at Llanidloes, in the year 1802. Through the instructions and prayers of a pious mother he was led early to seek the Lord. When about seventeen years of age, he spent a whole night in prayer, and at the dawn of day obtained the forgiveness of sins, a clear sense of which he retained to the end of his life. Two years after his conversion he began to preach the Gospel, and in the year 1826 was called to the work of the ministry. He continued to discharge the duties of his office, as a Welsh Minister, for thirty-six years. He possessed a meek and quiet spirit, ardent love to God, and an earnest desire to be useful. His evangelical and practical preaching was owned of God both in the conversion of sinners and the edification of believers; and his holy living adorned the Gospel of God our Saviour. As a Pastor he was affectionate and faithful, and much esteemed in all the Circuits in which he travelled. In his later years, being compelled, in consequence of his growing infirmities, to retire from the regular work, he resided as a Supernumerary in Liverpool, continuing, however, to afford, as strength permitted, valuable service to the Redeemer's cause. During the evening of life he enjoyed constant communion with God, and in his last illness his mind was kept in perfect peace. A little before his departure he said,—

> "Happy the souls to Jesus join'd,
> And saved by grace alone:
> Walking in all His ways, they find
> Their heaven on earth begun."

His last audible words were, "Happy, happy Sabbath;" evidently referring to the following Sabbath-day, of which he had been speaking, and which he hoped to "spend in heaven." He died September 2d, 1869, in the sixty-eighth year of his age, and the forty-fourth of his ministry.

(5.) Joseph Raynar; who was born at Dewsbury, November 2d, 1792. His parents were members of the Methodist Society, and a class met in their house. He was frequently and powerfully wrought upon by the Holy Spirit, and sometimes strongly drawn towards religious decision, but it was not until he was nearly twenty years of age that he became the subject of a Scriptural conversion. He entered the ministry at the age of twenty-two, and continued in the full work forty-five years. As a preacher he was instructive, earnest, awakening, and edifying; seldom leaving much in his text either unexplained or unapplied. In his attentions to the sick and the dying he was assiduous; and his visits were often singularly serviceable. He was scarcely less solicitous about those who, through neglect of the means of grace, were becoming careless. As a Superintendent he looked well after everything, small as well as great; and, being an observer of rule and a thoughtful administrator, the Societies he had in charge were generally peaceful and prosperous. His disapproval of all wrong-doing, especially when attempted under a specious cover, was such as to make him sometimes a stern reprover, but, even at such times, the tenderness of his nature would appear. Generous in his sympathies, he often looked upon the "things of others" to the disregard of his own. In respect of uprightness, he may be said to have been a "perfect man." Of unsullied reputation, catholic sentiments, and most courteous demeanour, he did honour to the ministry in the eyes of others as well as those of his own communion. The estimation in which he was held by his brethren was shown by his having been chosen, several times, to be Chairman of a District. During the last ten years of his life he was a Supernumerary; but, until within a few months of his death, he did not cease preaching, visiting the sick, meeting classes, and, in any way he could, helping his brethren. His last illness was not long; so that it may be said of him that he "ceased at once to work and live." He spoke of the preciousness of his Saviour so long as he was able to speak at all, and died in peace, September 3d, 1869, in the seventy-seventh year of his age.

(6.) William Bird; who was born at Stourport, April 11th, 1781. Though not favoured with pious parents, he was in early life a subject of deep religious impressions, and at the age of eighteen was brought to a saving knowledge of the truth under the ministry of the late Rev. Jonathan Edmondson. To the end of his life he referred to his conversion in terms of profound gratitude to God, and of loving veneration for the saintly man by whose instrumentality it had been effected. At the Conference of 1806, he was appointed to the Hinckley Circuit, and for forty-five years he exercised a diligent, acceptable, and successful ministry. Possessing an acute and vigorous intellect, he was able to master with comparative ease subjects of no ordinary difficulty, and to explain with clearness and force what he himself apprehended. A careful and devout student of the Word of God, and of standard books on theology, his mind was richly furnished with sacred knowledge; and he was "a workman who needed not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth." His manner in the pulpit was calm, dignified, and impressive. His sermons were masterly and forcible expositions of evangelical truth: prepared with the utmost care, they were replete with original and pungent passages which produced a deep impression upon those who listened to them. Endowed with remarkable conversational powers, he was an instructive and agreeable companion. He possessed a comprehensive knowledge of the doctrines and discipline of Methodism, as well as an unfaltering attachment to them. As a Superintendent, he blended watchfulness over the interests of his Circuits with tenderness and solicitude for the sorrowful and afflicted, and with the utmost frankness and cheerfulness in his intercourse with the people of his charge. As the Chairman of a District, he administered the rules of the Connexion in a time of great agitation and difficulty with striking ability and faithfulness. In 1851 he became a Supernumerary, but continued to preach with great acceptance until partial blindness and other infirmities confined him to his home. A sentence from the last entry in his diary indicates his growing preparation for the change which awaited him, "I see Jesus as the 'altogether lovely.' He is all charms. His love is the key to all excellency, but has no key to itself.

> 'To me, with Thy dear Name are given > Pardon, and holiness, and heaven.'"

During the illness which terminated his life, he possessed a calm and joyous confidence in the Atonement. A short time before his departure he said, "Jesus, Jesus, gracious Saviour; my Saviour, my Jesus." As if impatient for his glorious change, his last words were, "Come, Lord Jesus;" and having faithfully "served his generation by the will of God," without a sigh he "fell on sleep," September 7th, 1869, in the eighty-ninth year of his age, and the sixty-fourth of his ministry.

(7.) Adam Fletcher; who was born at Slaidburn, in the Clitheroe Circuit, July 20th, 1801. Early in life he displayed signs of a serious and devout spirit, and from his youth was eminently orderly and moral. As a man, he was intelligent, upright, firm, and faithful. In the year 1822 he became a member of the Wesleyan-Methodist Society, gave his heart to God, and found peace through faith in Christ. He was accepted as a candidate for the ministry in 1825, and from that time devoted himself fully to the "work of an evangelist," and, by diligent study of the Scriptures, became "a scribe instructed unto the kingdom of heaven." His preaching was methodical, clear, earnest, and practical. As a Pastor he was tender and judicious: his visits among the people of his charge were frequent and highly valued. He greatly admired, and was strongly attached to, the discipline of our Connexion, and maintained it with firmness and fidelity. For many years he had the oversight of important Circuits, and was several times chosen Chairman of a District, the duties of which office he discharged so as to secure general esteem and confidence. Having laboured for forty years usefully and acceptably, he retired from regular and active service. In his more limited sphere as a Supernumerary, he rendered valuable help to the cause of Christ, by preaching, visiting the sick, and leading a class. For some months previous to his death he endured great bodily weakness and languor, but no immediate danger was apprehended, and years of honourable old age seemed to be before him; but He "in whose hands our breath is" had otherwise determined. During his last illness, which was brief, he felt deeply his utter unworthiness before God; but resting firmly on the Atonement, testified that Christ was "present and precious as his Saviour." His "heart and flesh failed," but he "rejoiced in hope of the glory of God," and on September 7th, 1869, departed this life, to be "for ever with the Lord."

(8.) John Relph; who was born at Whitehaven, October 17th, 1816. At twelve years of age he was convinced of sin, and some weeks after found peace with God at a cottage prayer-meeting. He entered upon the work of the ministry in 1838. To an orderly and logical mind he united soundness of judgment and solidity of character. His preaching was expository, painstaking, and practical. As a Superintendent, he was methodical and discreet. For many years he was called to suffer severe domestic affliction, and at length his own health sank under a painful malady. At the first intimation of his dangerous condition he clung to life, and found it hard to say, "Thy will be done!"

He had very lowly views of himself and his labours, and passed in consequence through much severe temptation; but the issue was a surer trust in Christ. As he drew near his end, when not racked with pain, he asked those who were with him to help him to praise the Lord. On his last Sabbath he said, "Now I have nothing to do but to wait; I am ready for my Master." He died on September 14th, 1869, in the fifty-third year of his age, and the thirty-second of his ministry.

(9.) William Smith; who was born at Sheffield, in the year 1793. Having been carefully trained by a pious mother, and led to seek the Lord by the ministry of the Word, he was enabled, after some weeks of distress, when about fourteen years of age, to rejoice in the assurance of God's pardoning love. The distinguished Ministers stationed at that time in the Sheffield Circuit, perceiving him to be possessed of more than ordinary gifts, took him by the hand and encouraged him to exercise and improve them. He entered the ministry at the Conference of 1812, and continued to discharge its duties successfully and without interruption till the year 1856, when he retired from the full work, having occupied many of our most important Stations with marked fidelity and acceptance. As a preacher, he was richly evangelical, and was distinguished by the powerful and authoritative declaration of the "whole counsel of God;" whilst the unction attending the devotional services which he conducted was often very great. His ministry was largely owned of God in the awakening and conversion of sinners. As a Pastor he administered our discipline with wisdom, love, and firmness; and was diligent in domiciliary visitation, paying special attention to the sick and the poor. Eminently catholic and liberal in his spirit, he retained an unabated attachment to the Church of his early choice, and, in times of trial, fearlessly confronted opposition. When no longer equal to the full discharge of the duties of the ministry, he continued, so far as his strength would permit, diligently to preach and regularly to visit, seeking to save sinners, as well as to build up the Church of God. During the last few months of his life, he suffered great prostration and a general failure of his powers; yet he maintained his calm trust in God, spoke much of the preciousness of Christ, and contemplated his great change in "the full assurance of hope." He entered into rest, September 14th, 1869.

(10.) William Davies(a); who was born at Llanfyllin, Montgomeryshire, in 1787. He was one of the earliest fruits of our Welsh Mission in the Principality. When about eighteen years of age he was convinced of sin, converted to God, and led to union with His people. In 1809 he entered upon the work of the ministry, and for a period of forty-five years pursued a course of earnest and uninterrupted service. He applied himself reverently to the study of the Holy Scriptures, and carefully read the writings of the best divines. His preaching, both in Welsh and English, was plain and practical. It was ever his aim to bring sinners to the Cross, and his sound views of evangelical truth rendered his ministry acceptable and edifying to believers. His success in several Circuits was marked. In pastoral duties he was diligent, and in the administration of discipline at once firm and kind. The last fifteen years of his life were spent in the neighbourhood of Brecon, where his blameless and godly example will be long remembered. Though in comparative retirement, he delighted to preach, and perform other pastoral duties, to the close of life. On the Sabbath previous to his death, his labours were attended with great power and unction. The final summons was sudden, but it found him ready. As a shock of corn fully ripe, he was gathered into the heavenly garner, October 15th, 1869, in the eighty-third year of his age, and the sixty-first of his ministry.

(11.) Everard Vigis; who was born in the year 1805, at Ware, in the county of Hertford. His parents were pious, and by the Divine blessing on their instructions he was converted to God when twelve years old. He began to preach in his youth, and having offered himself as a Missionary, he was sent to the West Indies, where he laboured ten years with zeal and success. Returning to England, for thirty years his pulpit services, in various Circuits, were unusually acceptable. Mr. Vigis had a mind of considerable native vigour. He was unassuming, good-natured, and studious, and was diligent in composing sermons. His style was racy, and his preaching energetic, interesting, and instructive. The closing years of his life were clouded by heavy affliction. On October 18th, 1869, he entered into the joy of his Lord, in the sixty-fourth year of his age, and the forty-third of his ministry.

(12.) William Shearman; who was born at Market-Rasen, July 26th, 1814. He was blessed with pious parents, who endeavoured to bring him up "in the nurture and admonition of the Lord." In the sixteenth year of his age, under the ministry of the late Rev. Robert Bryant, he was truly converted to God. From that time he became a member of the Wesleyan-Methodist Society, and took an active part in the labours of the Sunday-school, and in conducting prayer-meetings. His supreme desire was to do good and bring others to Christ. It soon became evident that he was designed by the Head of the Church for a wider sphere of usefulness, and he was accepted as a candidate for the ministry. After enjoying the benefits of a residence at the Theological Institution, he was appointed to the Ramsay Circuit in 1839; and to the close of his life he laboured with great fidelity and earnestness in the various Circuits in which he was stationed. His ministry was marked by unction and power. His pastoral diligence was most exemplary, and as a Superintendent he was distinguished by wisdom and prudence. But, above all, he was a man of God, his whole life being pervaded by a spirit of deep and fervent piety. In 1869 he was appointed to the Superintendency of the North-Shields Circuit, where his work was cut short by a sudden and unexpected death. On Sunday, October 31st, he preached twice, with his usual energy; on Monday evening he attended a Missionary-meeting; and on Wednesday morning "he was not, for God took him."

He died at North-Shields, November 3d, 1869, in the fifty-sixth year of his age, and the thirty-second of his ministry.

(13.) Henry Daniels; who was born at Ecclesfield, near Sheffield, in the year 1802. Early in life, through the instrumentality of the late Rev. Theophilus Lessey, he became a subject of the converting grace of God. After having been engaged for a time in different departments of Christian work in the town in which he resided, he was recommended as a candidate for the ministry, and in the year 1828 received his first appointment to a Circuit. With unwavering confidence in God he persevered in the great work to which he was called. As a Minister, he preached the Word plainly and forcefully; and it was his happiness to take part in several extensive revivals of religion in Circuits in which he travelled. As a Superintendent, his administration was judicious, his judgment sound, and his integrity unswerving. Though naturally retiring and diffident, he knew how to administer reproof when necessary, "speaking the truth in love." An entire freedom from selfishness, and a deep humility of spirit, were prominent features of his character. A true friend, a faithful pastor, an affectionate husband and father, a cheerful Christian, he was "an example of the believers, in word, in conversation, in charity, in spirit, in faith, in purity." After thirty-seven years of toil, spent almost entirely in the counties of Devon and Cornwall, his health, which had been failing for some time, completely broke down, and he was compelled to retire from active service. In "feebleness extreme," his mind was kept in peace. Trusting in the Lord Jesus, he waited for His coming; and, on November 8th, 1869, in the sixty-eighth year of his age, and the forty-second of his ministry, he entered into rest.

(14.) Charles Burnell Ritchie; who was born in Musselburg, Scotland. In early life he was powerfully impressed by the preaching of the late Rev. John P. Haswell, and soon experienced the forgiveness of sins. He began at once the work to which he was afterwards set apart, endeavouring by his example, prayers, and exhortations to win souls to Christ. He commenced his ministry in the Zetland Isles, and many were added to the Church during his residence there. For nearly thirty years he continued his labour of love, preaching the Word with great fidelity and affection, and performing diligently the duties of a Pastor. To the sick and the young he was particularly attentive. He was a man of frank and genial disposition, and of cheerful piety. In his successive Circuits he made many friends, who deeply lament his loss. His death was somewhat sudden, and unexpected by any except himself. His illness lasted a week, but he was not thought to be in danger. Yet he seemed to have a premonition of his end, and said, "I am a dying man." He called his friends together the day before his departure, entreating them to live for God, and then commended them in prayer to the Divine protection. As to himself he observed, "I am happy;" "All is well." The next day he fell into slumber from which he never fully awoke; sleep deepened into death. He passed peacefully away on January 15th, 1870, in the fifty-sixth year of his age, and the thirtieth of his ministry.

(15.) Henry Davies; who was born at Barnstaple, October 23d, 1799. He found peace with God in a class-meeting at Chester, when he was about sixteen years of age; and, in after years, referring to this event, he said, "I well remember coming out of the class-room, the night being beautifully clear, and calling on the moon and stars, and all the host of heaven, to join me in praising God for His great mercy toward me." Possessed of a strong and vigorous mind, he gave himself to reading, and eagerly seized every opportunity of adding to his stores of useful knowledge. He soon began to call sinners to repentance; and, at the Conference of 1821, was appointed to the West Indies, where he laboured with success till his health broke down, and he was compelled to return to England. In 1825, he was appointed to a home Circuit, and for many years occupied some of our most important Stations with great ability and success. He was an honoured instrument in promoting some extensive revivals of religion in the neighbourhoods in which he laboured. His sermons were clear and rich expositions of Divine truth: he was a "scribe instructed unto the kingdom of heaven," and brought out of his treasure "things new and old." His thoughts were never commonplace, and his sermons were delivered with energy. He was a wise counsellor and a judicious Superintendent, ever manifesting a deep solicitude for God's glory, and for the welfare and progress of the Circuits committed to his charge. In 1855, his health again failing, he became a Supernumerary, and for four years after was partially laid aside. With somewhat recovered health in 1859 he afresh took charge of a Circuit, and faithfully spent his remaining strength in his Master's cause; but age and feebleness compelled him in 1865 again to become a Supernumerary, and his public work was done. In the closing years of his life he was compassed about with bodily infirmities, but to the last manifested a deep interest in the prosperity of the work of God. During his last affliction he was for the most part unconscious, but in the brief intervals of reason he gave expression to his unshaken trust in God his Saviour. "God," he said, "is doing all things well; blessed be His name!" He died at Cambridge, on January 19th, 1870, in the seventy-first year of his age, and the forty-ninth of his ministry.

(16.) John Hannah; who was born at Whitehaven, September 6th, 1806. In early life he gave his heart to God, joined the Methodist Society, and was placed upon the Circuit-plan as a Local-preacher. He was admitted into the Itinerant work in the year 1829, and for upwards of forty years laboured with general acceptance and usefulness. He was a clear and sound expositor of the Word of God. His preaching was characterized by clearness, logical force, and earnestness, and bore marks of considerable thoughtfulness and deep acquaintance with Scripture. His mind was of more than average strength, and his habits were studious. He made himself familiar with the best theological authors, and showed a keen appreciation of their excellencies. In conversation he was intelligent and highly suggestive, and to his young colleagues was a valuable guide in the selection of books and the choice of subjects for pulpit-ministration. His correct taste led him to reject whatever was meretricious and superficial. His ministry was always appreciated by the more thoughtful of his hearers. After his return from the Conference of 1869 he was taken with a severe illness, which, after causing him months of great bodily pain, borne with Christian resignation, terminated fatally on February 5th, 1870. He peacefully "fell asleep," in the sixty-fourth year of his age.

(17.) JOHN C. HARRISON; who was born at Kirby-Malzeard, in the Ripon Circuit, May 7th, 1841. In the fourteenth year of his age, being brought to a full conviction of his guilt and danger as a sinner, he sought the Lord in earnest prayer, and found redemption through the blood of Jesus, "the forgiveness of sins." In little more than a year afterwards, constrained by the love of Christ, and yearning pity for precious souls, he began to call sinners to repentance. In 1860 he was sent to the Institution at Didsbury, where he remained for two years. His brief ministerial career was closed in the Middlesborough Circuit, to which he was appointed in 1867. He laboured with acceptance and success until within three days of his death. For some time before his removal there was a marked improvement both in his piety and preaching. At the last weekly meeting of the Ministers of the Circuit which he attended, his conversation and prayer were characterized by great spirituality and power. His last sermon was preached from the words, "I will never leave thee nor forsake thee." On the following Thursday he "ceased at once to work and live." The last words he was heard to utter were, "I see Jesus." He died February 10th, 1870, in the twenty-ninth year of his age, and the eighth of his ministry.

(18.) THOMAS MOFFAT FITZGERALD; who was born at Musselburg, in Scotland, in the year 1811. He early became a subject of religious impressions; but it was not till his eighteenth year that he experienced that change of heart which gave a new direction to his whole subsequent life. The reality of his conversion was evinced by holy activity and usefulness in the cause of God. When urged to offer himself for the ministry, so overwhelming were his convictions of the importance of the office that he shrank from it; but his preservation from death by drowning, some time afterwards, was regarded by him as a fresh summons to devote himself to it. In the year 1834 he was accepted as a candidate, and for thirty-five years laboured in various Circuits with great acceptance and usefulness. His sermons were carefully prepared; their subjects were varied: they were ever instructive, and sometimes signally arousing. He delivered them with great earnestness, and in evident dependence on the Spirit of God. His whole manner in the pulpit was that of one who felt the deep importance of the work in which he was engaged; and in several of his earlier Circuits he was specially owned of God in the conversion of the young. He was faithful in administering the discipline of the Body. He was a true friend, and those who knew him intimately highly esteemed him. In February, 1869, his health began perceptibly to fail. In October he became much worse; and at Christmas he felt himself obliged to decline his wonted labour. But his heart was still in it. Nearly five weeks of extreme suffering and weakness brought his life to a close. Throughout his affliction his mind was kept in peace. On the evening before his death he assured those who attended on him that he was on "the Rock Christ Jesus;" that "he felt the Saviour precious;" and that "the Gospel which he had so many years preached to others then sustained him." He then fell into a peaceful slumber, to awake no more upon earth, February 13th, 1870.

(19.) William S. F. Moss; who was born in London, January 12th, 1817. He had not the advantage of godly parentage, but was early a subject of the strivings of the Holy Spirit. At fifteen years of age he resolved to seek the Lord in earnest, and joined the Methodist Society, a step which brought upon him persecution from his family, especially his father, who turned him from his roof penniless and without a change of clothing. About this time, in a prayer-meeting, held after a sermon by the late Rev. Thomas Galland, he obtained "the pearl of great price." In his journal he says: "The witness of the Spirit was immediate and direct, and in the language of humble confidence I could say, 'My beloved is mine, and I am His.'" Removing to West Bromwich, he began to preach, and was not long afterwards recommended to the Conference as a candidate for the ministry. He was sent to Western Africa, and subsequently to Jamaica, where for several years he laboured successfully. Returning home, he was appointed in succession to several important Circuits, to their great spiritual advantage; and for some years honourably sustained the office of Chairman of a District. As a Christian, he was earnest and sincere; as a colleague and friend, faithful and kind; as a preacher, remarkable for the simplicity and directness of his appeals to the conscience, and for the expository character of his discourses. His desire to benefit the souls of his hearers was always evident. At length, the strong man, who had survived the dangers of tropical climes, sank under the insidious attacks of disease, and, in the latter part of last year, was totally laid aside from active work. But he was prepared to meet the "last enemy." During months of weariness and suffering, he maintained his character as a faithful and obedient servant of God, possessing his soul in patience, and continually testifying to the power of Divine grace. Some of his last words were, "Salvation, happiness, eternal joy." Just before his departure he said, though indistinctly, "Port gained." Thus ministering to the comfort of his loved ones with his latest breath, he passed away to the eternal rest, on February 16th, 1870, in the fifty-fourth year of his age, and the thirty-second of his ministry.

(20.) JOHN COLLIER; who was born at Little Houghton, in the Northampton Circuit, in the year

1803. Through the tender care of a pious mother he became in early life a regular attendant at the Wesleyan-Methodist Chapel, where the Word of God came with power to his heart. He joined the Society in 1821, and soon found "peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ." From this time he felt an intense desire for the salvation of souls. He was received by the Conference, in the year 1829, as a candidate for the ministry, and appointed to the Brixham Circuit. For thirty-five years he toiled in some of our most laborious Circuits with unwearied zeal, and was instrumental in saving many souls. As a preacher, he was evangelical, earnest, and impressive. He loved the doctrines and discipline of Methodism, and was ever faithful in the discharge of the duties of his office. He had an amiable disposition and a loving heart. In his last affliction he suffered great prostration; but sustaining and comforting grace was afforded to him, and his last expressions were, "I am going to heaven;" "All is well;" "My trust is in Christ." In this peaceful state he fell asleep in Jesus on February 27th, 1870, in the sixty-seventh year of his age, and the forty-first of his ministry.

(21.) Peter M'Owan; who was born at Crieff, in the year 1795, and died at Bristol, February, 1870. In early life he was a subject of Divine influence, but resisted the drawings of the Holy Spirit until the eighteenth year of his age. By the instrumentality of his brother he was brought to a knowledge of the truth "as it is in Jesus." After a severe mental conflict he realized a sense of God's pardoning love, and his heart was filled with peace through believing. He subsequently became entangled in the mazes of Calvinistic doctrine, from which he was delivered by a careful perusal of the Rev. John Fletcher's works. Heartily embracing the distinctive tenets of Methodism, and entering into communion with his fellow-believers, he was soon called upon to preach the Gospel. At first the elevated views he had formed of the ministerial office, and his profound modesty, prevented him from complying with this call. But the remembrance of his solemn covenant-engagements with God, and a consuming compassion for souls, led him, on the repetition of the call, to accept it, though with "fear and trembling." His labours were attended with the Divine blessing, and in 1817 he entered the Christian ministry. In his youth, the zeal and ardour of his soul led him to task his powers of body and mind until his health was imperilled. In after days he somewhat abated the vehemence of his ministrations, but his heart never lost its pristine glow, and his zeal for the promotion of the Redeemer's kingdom was never allowed to grow less. His importunity in prayer for the manifestation of God's glory in the salvation of souls has rarely been excelled; and God graciously gave him the desire of his heart. His discourses were most carefully prepared, and the delivery of them was vigorous. He was of a reverent and Godfearing spirit, and of pre-eminently holy life; diligent in the discharge of his pastoral duties, and faithful to all the trusts committed to him as a Methodist preacher. His attachment to Methodism was intense, and many of his last hours on earth were spent in intercession on its behalf. His love for his brethren in the ministry was noteworthy. Our Foreign Missions were regarded by him with an interest commensurate with his whole-hearted devotion to the kingdom of Christ. He also employed his pen in the defence of the truth, and delighted to enshrine the memory of "the just" in appropriate records. A man of cautious temperament, he deferred to the judgment of his brethren in dubious affairs; but where his convictions were concerned, he was inflexible in the maintenance of what he believed to be right. The high estimate recorded of his character in the Minutes of the Conference, on the occasion of his retirement from the active work of the ministry in 1868, was confirmed by the conclusion of his life. As he had been fervent in spirit, diligent in the business of the Church, and successful in his evangelistic labours while the Master called him to toil, so he was patient in suffering, "joyful in tribulation," and steadfast in the hope of everlasting life. In the most distressing stages of his last illness he was kept in perfect peace. When his physical exhaustion was very great, he said, "Though I don't talk much, I am on the Rock. Christ is worth all the world to me." During the last night of his life he exclaimed, "Come, Lord Jesus, come quickly! He will." After a little while he said, "He has come." His last words, spoken with great difficulty, were, "Precious Saviour, my rest." Thus ceasing from his labours, he entered into the presence of that adorable Lord whose will he had done with great joy for many years, and whose "easy yoke" he had persuaded multitudes to take upon themselves.

(22.) William John Handcock; who was born in the island of Jersey, in 1813. Being favoured with godly parental training, he was early impressed by religious truth. His conversion, however, only took place when he was in his nineteenth year. He had, previously to that time, occasionally experienced some measure of spiritual comfort; but from that date his faith in Christ was simple and appropriating, and his joy in the Holy Ghost grew gradually stronger and more steadfast. After having preached for about four years, he was, in 1838, accepted by the Conference as a probationer for the ministry, and appointed to the South of France, in various parts of which he laboured during the space of ten years, winning the respect and confidence of his colleagues, as well as of all who were in any way connected with him. With the exception of a temporary withdrawal from ministerial duties in 1849, on account of a failure of health, occasioned by excessive fatigue and much privation in the Upper Alps, and his last appointment, (which was in England,) the latter period of Mr. Handcock's ministry, embracing eighteen years, was spent in the French-speaking Circuits of the Channel Islands. Here, too, his labours were varied and useful. He was the chief instrument in establishing the two Wesleyan day-schools existing in the Channel Islands. He also acted for a time as Editor of the French Magazine, and took a prominent part in the labours connected with the publication of the new French Hymn-Book. In 1868, he was appointed to the Uxbridge and Rickmansworth Circuit, where the disease which had been for years weakening his constitution finally proved fatal. During the last few months of his life he suffered constant and severe pain; but he was enabled to endure it with exemplary patience, his words giving evidence of the strength of his faith in his Saviour. "All is well," he said; "my feet are upon the Rock! . . . I have preached Christ to be the ALL of man; and such do I find Him for me now. Everything else is vanity." Thus he departed to be with Christ, on March 25th, 1870, in the fifty-seventh year of his age, and the thirty-second of his ministry. Mr. Handcock was a man of retiring and studious habits; but he was at the same time conscientiously attentive to all the more active duties of his calling. His intellectual acquirements were varied and extensive, but the Word of God was his all-absorbing study. Hence his ministrations were eminently Scriptural and of no mean order. He unfolded the "hidden things" of God, and successfully led believers towards the higher stages of spiritual life. He was characterized by habitual seriousness, constant self-denial, and much heavenly-mindedness. He was affectionate towards his brethren, and judicious in counsel. As a Superintendent, he was precise and firm in his attention to discipline. He mourned over deviations from the "old paths," and lamented the introduction of practices which, he feared, might in time obliterate the due distinction between the Church and the world. "He was a good man, and full of the Holy Ghost and of faith."

(23.) JOHN NEWTON; who was born in the neighbourhood of Birstal, in 1803. He was converted at the early age of twelve years, became a Local-preacher in 1825, and entered the ministry in 1830. His greatest delight was in preaching the Gospel, the power of which he felt. Though ever careful to warn sinners to "flee from the wrath to come," and direct them to "the Lamb of God, which taketh away the sin of the world," he dwelt largely in his discourses on the doctrines of Christianity and the experience of believers. He manifested considerable originality and mental power, and his acquaintance with literature was extensive. His last illness commenced about four months before his death, but did not at first prevent him from the discharge of his duties; and, indeed, not until absolutely compelled, would he relax his labours. Till within a short time of his death he strongly hoped that he would recover, and be spared to "preach again the glorious Gospel more faithfully." But though hopeful of his restoration to health, he was quite submissive. To a friend who called two or three days before his departure he said, "I am in God's hands;" "He doeth all things well." To another he wrote, "I am as happy as the glorious Gospel and the power of God can make me." His last hours were very tranquil, and his end was peace. He died at Alston, April 14th, 1870, in the sixty-seventh year of his age, and the fortieth of his ministry.

(24.) Aquila Barber; who was born in the city of Bristol, January 14th, 1797. Though the son of pious and highly respected parents, as a youth he manifested the greatest aversion to religion, and could ill brook the restraints of his home-life; but at the age of eighteen he was awakened to the knowledge of his sinful state, and in a meeting for prayer, held in the house of a Christian friend, he was converted to God. From that time he was a new man, "adorning the doctrine of God his Saviour in all things." At the Conference of 1821, he was accepted as a candidate for the ministry. In the course of forty-one years of active service, he distinguished himself by his firm attachment to Methodism, by his Christian cheerfulness and uprightness, and by his faithfulness and ability as a preacher of the truth. He had the rare joy of seeing four of his sons called to the ministry. At the Conference of 1863 he retired from Circuit work and settled at Gainsborough, but continued to preach as his strength allowed. When, some months before his death, failing health obliged him to desist, he was often heard to express his regret that he could no longer engage in the work he loved so well. In his last affliction he was sustained by the grace of God. To a ministerial brother who visited him he said, "I find comfort in three words, peace, trust, and submission." During the last two or three days of his life he was mostly unconscious, but just before his Lord's summons a sweet smile lighted up his countenance, as if he saw heaven opened unto him, and Jesus waiting to receive his spirit. He departed, to be for ever with the Lord, April 21st, 1870, in the seventy-fourth year of his age, and the forty-ninth of his ministry.

(25.) William Exley; who was born at Huddersfield, January 1st, 1814, and was converted to God in early life, chiefly through the instruction received in the Queen-street Sunday-school in that town. His education was greatly neglected, but after his conversion he made rapid advances in knowledge, became an acceptable Local-preacher, and was ultimately proposed for the ministry in the year 1837. His pulpit ministrations were characterized by great simplicity and earnestness. His memory is cherished by many who were brought to God under his ministry, but he excelled chiefly in the edification of Christian believers. As a Pastor, he was diligent and kind, and especially attentive to the sick and poor. He was deeply interested in the prosperity of our Day and Sabbath Schools. As a Superintendent, he was enterprising and judicious; and in several Circuits he was the means of raising Chapels and Schools. His genial temper and social qualities both gave him the affections of those who knew him, and increased his usefulness. His last affliction was long and painful; but, whenever his sufferings allowed, he expressed unfailing confidence in that Saviour whom he had long earnestly served. He died at Dewsbury, May 6th, 1870.

(26.) John Partis Haswell; who was born at Tantobie, in the county of Durham, May 19th, 1790. He was converted to God in early life, and began to meet in class in 1808. His conviction of sin was deep, and his sorrow intense; but through faith in Christ, penitential grief soon gave place to a full assurance of the Divine favour, and the Spirit "bore witness with his spirit" that he was a child of God. Having found redemption in his Saviour's blood, he was anxious to lead others into the enjoyment of the same blessing; and, feeling a deep sympathy for souls, he began to call sinners to repentance. He entered the ministry in 1812, devoting all his powers to a work in which his soul delighted, and in which he was greatly owned of God. He was a diligent student of the Holy Scriptures, and, having a very retentive memory, could bring out of the Divine treasury "things new and old." By a conscientious and habitual improvement of time, he acquired considerable stores of useful knowledge, and pressed a large amount of work into "life's short day." His preaching was earnest, evangelical, and useful. His piety was deep, fervent, and cheerful. For many years he "walked with God," and knowing that his death would probably be sudden, he lived like those servants who "wait for their Lord." As a Pastor, he will long be held in grateful remembrance. In visiting the sick, the poor, and the careless, he was exemplary. His kind disposition, wise counsels, tender sympathy, and fervent prayers, made him ever welcome in the homes of all, and especially in the abodes of sorrow. For nearly sixty years he sustained an unblemished reputation while going in and out among the people, seeking in order to save the lost. That he enjoyed the confidence and affection of his fathers and brethren in the ministry, is made manifest by his having been placed in some of the most honourable and responsible positions that a Minister can fill. In the year 1864 he became a Supernumerary, and took up his abode in Newcastle-on-Tyne, to which Circuit he rendered important service, being always ready for every good word and work, and that to the very day in which he was called hence. He showed to the last that he had an intense desire to promote his Master's glory, and felt an increasing delight in His beloved service. He was accustomed to say that there was one prayer which he could never use, namely: "From sudden death, good Lord deliver us!" he would rather "cease at once to work and live." In this his desire was granted. On the last Sabbath of his life he preached twice: he also preached on the following Monday night, met two Classes on Tuesday, preached again on Wednesday night, rose as well as usual the next morning, and entered fully into conversation with persons who called to see him; he then began to write a letter to a friend, which he did not live to finish. About one o'clock he dined, and was summoned to his heavenly home almost immediately after. Thus, without a sigh or groan, he departed, May 12th, 1870, in the eightieth year of his age, and the fifty-eighth of his ministry.

(27.) JOHN CRAWSHAW (A); who was born at Cheetham-Hill, Manchester, in 1811. His parents were pious Wesleyan Methodists; and, notwithstanding he lost his mother by death when he was five years of age, and was thus deprived of her maternal love and influence, his spiritual interests were not neglected. He was trained "in the way he should go," and he never departed from it. He has often been heard to say, that he could not remember the time when the Holy Spirit did not strive with him. Converted to God when he was seventeen years of age, he at once united himself to that Church of which he afterwards became an esteemed Minister. Having experienced the blessedness of those "whose transgressions are forgiven, and whose sin is covered," he felt anxious that others should do the same. Through his influence and example, three of the sons of the gentleman to whom he was apprenticed were brought to a knowledge of the truth, and eventually gave themselves to the work of the ministry. He was appointed to the Bury St. Edmund's Circuit by the Conference of 1834. His sermons, which were prepared with great care, were full of thought, and rich in evangelical truth, and his appeals to the heart and conscience of those whom he addressed were pointed. In the various Circuits in which he was stationed, he always secured the esteem of his colleagues as well as the affections of the people, by the propriety of his demeanour, the gentleness of his spirit, the urbanity of his manners, and his unaffected and consistent piety. He was an acceptable and useful Minister of Jesus Christ. In 1860 he was compelled to retire from active labour by a severe illness. After resting for twelve months, he began to preach again occasionally, doing so more frequently as his health improved. This interruption to the work in which he delighted was, however, of nearly nine years' duration. By the Conference of 1869 he was appointed to Kettering. His death was sudden. On Sunday, May 22d, while preparing to go to a country appointment, he was seized with an attack of apoplexy, and died the same evening, aged fifty-eight years, in the thirty-sixth of his ministry. Mr. Crawshaw was the author of several publications, one of which, "Lectures to Children," had an extensive circulation.

(28.) CHARLES COOK ROKKE; who was born at Ballinasloe, February 20th, 1832, and died at Chertsey, in the Windsor Circuit, June 2d, 1870. Having been taught by his pious mother to "remember his Creator in the days of his youth," and led to hear the Methodists, he was brought to seek and find mercy and to join the Society; but neglecting to meet in class on his removal to England, in 1857, he suffered spiritual loss for some years. At length, however, under a sermon by the Rev. John S. Workman, he again sought mercy, and was restored to the joy of God's salvation. As he could speak a little Irish, he was persuaded to attempt to do good to his countrymen who were often found together in the streets of Manchester, and succeeded in gathering many of them around him to hear the Gospel. After spending three years at the Institution at Richmond, he was employed in that town and neighbourhood, and subsequently in other parts of England, as a Home Missionary, a work for which he possessed very remarkable qualifications. His earnest spirit did not wait to have work laid out for him, but he made opportunities for himself. His voice was often heard in the highways beseeching men to be reconciled to God. He had a powerful and abiding conviction of the value of souls, and would toil unweariedly in search of even one "lost sheep," frequently bringing it to the fold rejoicing. No second thought seemed to possess his mind: the salvation of men was the topic of conversation wherever he was, and his very face would shine while he told of his having "seen hundreds of sinners seeking the Saviour." His preaching was attractive and powerful, and his appeals to the conscience were eminently successful. In visiting from house to house he was indefatigable, and by this means he brought many within the range of his influence for good. Traces of usefulness are visible in every place where he has laboured, and many will be "the crown of his rejoicing" in the day of the Lord. His prudence and discretion, so remarkably combined with zeal, considerably augmented his usefulness. He died very suddenly, soon after preaching, and people mourned for him "with a great and very sore lamentation."

(29.) Henri De Jersey; who was born at Mon-Plaisir, in the Island of Guernsey, in 1799, and died June 28th, 1870, in the seventy-second year of his age, and the fifty-first of his ministry. He was trained by pious parents, who were the firstfruits of Methodism in the Channel Islands; his father and grandfather, together with others of the family, being members of the class-meeting formed by Dr. Coke on his first visit to Guernsey. He was converted to God in early youth, and entered the Methodist ministry in his twentieth year. During forty-one years of ministerial toil in various parts of France, in Switzerland, and in the Channel Islands, he commended himself to his brethren and to the churches as "a workman that needeth not to be ashamed." His labours as a preacher, a pastor, and an author, entitle him to be regarded as one of the founders of French Methodism. He also exercised an influence for good far beyond the bounds of his own religious denomination. The last ten years of his life were spent in the comparative retirement of a Supernumerary; but even then he laboured diligently, preaching and visiting as his strength permitted. He died suddenly, from the effects of a paralytic stroke, while on a visit to his native isle; but he was found ready, watching for the Master, his loins being girded, and his lamp burning. Of him it may be truly said, "The memory of the just is blessed."

(30.) Samuel Rowe; who was born of Christian parents in the city of Salisbury, in the year 1803. When fourteen years of age, in the old school-room, Clerkenwell, London, he gave his heart to God, and was blessed with a "sense of sins forgiven." He became a member of the Society at City-road, and for several years happily employed his leisure time in various departments of Christian usefulness. In 1826 he entered upon his probation as a Methodist Preacher; and during more than forty years continued to labour in the ministry with entire forgetfulness of self, seeking to glorify God and to benefit his fellow-men. He was a man of a meek and quiet spirit, ever manifesting that charity which "thinketh no evil," and winning for himself the blessing which belongs to "the peacemakers." He habitually sought to know and to do the Divine will, his practice of secret prayer, of hourly communion with "the Father of lights," giving him strength and joy. His ministry was blessed of God to the conversion of sinners, and to the edification of the Church of Christ. Those who heard his expositions and applications of Divine truth, felt that he was not seeking to manifest "excellency of speech or of wisdom," but that he was "declaring the counsel of God." He ruled well his own house: his children rise up and call him blessed. The peculiar nature of his last affliction, which was long and painful, prevented him from openly testifying of the grace of God: a consistent life, devoted to the service of God and the interests of the Christian Church, was his testimony. He died at Lytham, on July 23d, 1870, in the sixty-eighth year of his age, and the forty-fourth of his ministry.

(31.) James Tidyman; who was born at Whitehaven, in the year 1833, and died at Manningtree, August 3d, 1870. He was converted to God in the twelfth year of his age, through the ministry of the Rev. William M. Punshon, M.A., and entered the Methodist ministry in the year 1858. In Demerara for a short time, and afterwards in several Circuits in England, he laboured with much diligence and success. It was not given him, however, to labour long. In 1867 he was obliged, by failure of health, to become a Supernumerary. During the year he diligently engaged, so far as he was able, in pastoral work in the Hoxton Circuit, London, and in visiting the people; and his preaching was made a blessing to many. In 1868 he afresh entered on the duties of a Circuit, but again his failure of health compelled him to entirely discontinue his ministerial labours. His ministry was characterized by great earnestness and power, and was eminently practical and faithful. It is to be feared, however, that, too prodigal of his strength, he suffered his zeal to shorten his days. His affliction was long and painful, but was endured with exemplary patience. He clung tenaciously to the desire for life and future service, and did not entirely relinquish hope till a few weeks before his death. But as his end drew near his prayer was "to depart, and to be with Christ." Resting on the Atonement, and found of his Lord in peace, he died in the thirty-seventh year of his age, and the twelfth of his ministry.

2. In Ireland, two; viz.,—

(1.) Edward Harpur. He was converted to God in early life, and entered the ministry in the year 1828. After having laboured in the Word and doctrine more than forty years, he died in peace on Sunday, December 5th, 1869.

(2.) James Calcutt Pratt; who was born near Rathdowney, in the Queen's County. He became a subject of regenerating grace in early life, and in the year 1808 was accepted as a candidate for our ministry, and appointed to the Ballinamallard Circuit. For thirty-four years he prosecuted the work assigned to him with great faithfulness, — "an example of the believers, in word, in conversation, in charity, in spirit, in faith, in purity;" and at the close of that period, broken down in strength and in spirit by his long and earnest service, and by the sorrow consequent on the loss of his beloved wife, he was compelled to become a Supernumerary. In 1848, having obtained permission of the Conference, he emigrated with his children to the United States. The following notice of his character as a Christian Minister has been transmitted to the Conference by the Rev. M. E. Ellison, Secretary of the Newark Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church of America:—"His sermons were clear, simple, and practical, after the style of our fathers, fitted to convince, to offer Christ, to invite, to build up. He always remembered he was an ambassador of Christ, and a member of your Body. His Christian and ministerial character was a beautiful combination of goodness, gentleness, meekness, and faith. As years increased, there was a rounding up, a fulness, a maturity, a ripening for heaven, rarely met with." He ended his blameless life in the city of New Jersey, on March 11th, 1870, in the ninetieth year of his age, and sixty-second of his ministry.

(1.) Should parents prefer it, their sons may be admitted at ten years, and remain until sixteen years of age.

(2.) In any case where the Educational Allowance has been received by the parent, the claim upon the Schools' Fund shall be understood to have been met and satisfied for that year.

(3.) In all cases of an additional year being granted, on payment, to boys who have not been at school six years, the sum of £25 shall be paid, which sum shall be inclusive of the £6 6s. from the Children's Fund; but in all cases of request for a year additional to the six years, the Committee shall be satisfied that the character and diligence of the applicants are such as to render their return to the school advantageous to the other boys, and in such cases the payment shall be £30 inclusive of the £6 6s.

(4.) In future, the Competition for Scholarships shall be restricted to those boys who have been not more than six years at one of the schools.

(5.) For the convenience of the officers of the Fund, the payment for education to both boys and girls shall commence at nine years instead of eight years, and be continued until fifteen years; the ninth year to be reckoned from the Christmas before payment.

HOME-MISSION AND CONTINGENT FUND.

Q. XVII. What are the Resolutions of the Conference in reference to the HOME-MISSION AND CONTINGENT FUND?

A. 1. The Conference adopts the Report of the Committee of Management, and of the Army and Navy Committee; and directs that the Resolutions passed by the General Committee, and the Army Returns, be printed in the Minutes. (See Appendixes, Nos. IV. and IX.)

2. The Conference continues to recognise the great importance of our work in the Army and Navy, and rejoices in the many tokens of the Divine approval which have been vouchsafed to the Ministers employed therein.

3. That regarding the lamentably neglected state of a great proportion of the populations of the towns and cities of the land, the need of an earnest, faithful, and loving proclamation of evangelical truth in rural districts, and also the evil tendencies of the day with reference to religion, in consequence of which many substitute the form for the power of godliness, while many others deny all that is miraculous in Scripture fact and spiritual in Christian experience, the Conference again expresses its approbation of the Home Missionary organization, and its hope that through the increased liberality of our people, the Committee may soon be justified in recommending increased activity and multiplied agencies.

4. PUBLIC MEETINGS AND JUVENILE HOME AND FOREIGN MISSIONARY ASSOCIATIONS.—The Conference rejoices to know that the Public Meetings held in behalf of our Home Missions have ministered to the edification and zeal of our people; that in some of our leading Circuits a Meeting has been held, during the year, in every Chapel, with great advantage to the Fund; and that, in some other Circuits, where only one Annual Meeting formerly took place, two or three Meetings have been recently convened. The Conference is convinced that the multiplication of these Meetings would be an effective auxiliary means of quickening the prayerful concern of our Societies and congregations for the conversion of their neighbours, as well as of their country men at large; and it strongly recommends that such Meetings should be held in all our principal Chapels. The Conference is glad to know also that there has been a gratifying increase in the number of Juvenile Home and Foreign Missionary Associations during the year, and it entertains the hope that these useful Associations—aiding at once our Home and Foreign Missions—will be established in all our Circuits.

The Conference is decidedly of opinion, that wherever sums, large or small, are collected avowedly for the Foreign or Home Missions, the whole amount should be remitted to the Treasurers of these Funds respectively, to be administered under the direction of their Committees; and that sums so remitted to the Home-Mission Fund should entitle a Circuit to favourable consideration, if it request a grant for any effort within its boundaries which may be a legitimate object for the application of moneys collected for Home-Missions. (Minutes, 1863.)

On this subject the following modification has been made:—

In the case of Circuits which are not in a position to ask for the appointment of a Home-Missionary Minister, and to give the pledge required, but which feel the necessity of adopting some plan of Home-Missionary operations, the subjoined allocation shall be allowed:—

One-third of the sums received by Juvenile Home and Foreign Missionary Associations, to be paid to the Funds of the Foreign Missionary Society, "it being expressly understood that in every case the contribution to the Foreign Missions shall be at least equal to what has been presented from Christmas Offerings, on the average of several preceding years:"

One-third to the Home-Mission and Contingent Fund:

One-third to the Circuit, to be expended in support of local movements of a directly Home-Missionary character, under the direction of the Superintendent, and of a Committee to be appointed at the December Quarterly Meeting.

In all other cases the former Minute of the Conference remains in force.

5. The Conference deems it expedient to reprint the following Rule from the Minutes of 1797 :—

"That all bills for the support of travelling preachers and their families, in respect to deficiencies, house-rent, fire, candles, sickness, travelling expenses, and all other matters of a temporal kind for their support, for which the Circuits cannot provide, shall first meet with the approbation of the Quarterly Meeting, and be signed by the General Steward of the Circuit,* before they can be brought to the District Committee."

6. Home-Mission Regulations.—Each Home-Missionary Minister is directed, with the concurrence of the Superintendent Minister, to forward with his journal, signed as now by the Superintendent, to the General Secretary for the information of the Committee, a copy of the Circuit-Plan; and a quarterly statement of the number of full and accredited Church-Members, and of persons on trial, in connection with the place or places specially assigned to him as his Mission District.

7. JOHN VANNER, ESQ., and the REV. JOHN W. GREEVES are re-appointed the Treasurers; the REV. CHARLES PREST the General Secretary; and the REV. ALEXANDER M'AULAY and the REV. JOHN BOND the Secretaries. The Committee, which shall meet before the next Conference, shall consist of the President and the Secretary of the Conference; the Ex-President; William Mewburn, Esq., one of the Treasurers, and the Rev. A. 1. The Conference adopts the Report of the Special Meeting of the General Education Committee, held in Burslem, on Tuesday, July 19th; with the exception of the Resolution on the Lay-inspectorship, and directs that the report shall be printed in the Minutes. (See Appendix VIII.)

2. The Conference learns with much thankfulness that during the past year there has been an increase of 48 Day-schools, and 9,739 Day-scholars; and of 115 Sunday-schools, and 20,788 Sunday-scholars.

3. The Conference directs that the Rev. J. Clulow, in addition to his labours as Visitor of Sunday-schools, shall, as far as possible, inspect the Day-schools in the localities which he may visit; and empowers the Education Committee to make arrangements for such special visitation of Day-schools as during the year may be found necessary.

4. That having regard to the new position of the Educational question as resulting from the passing of the recent Act, the Conference directs that at the September District Meetings special inquiry shall be made into the character and extent of Day-school education in the several Circuits, and as to the desirableness of supplying existing wants by promoting the establishment of Wesleyan Schools on the one hand, or of School-Board Schools on the other.

5. That, in the present position of the Educational question, and considering especially the enlarged number of students in the Normal Institution, and the growing responsibilities of the Connexion in regard to primary Christian education, the Conference again commends the case of the Westminster New Chapel very earnestly to the sympathy and liberal support of the Connexion, and confidently hopes that this most important and necessary undertaking may be completed without delay.

6. The Conference adopts the proposals of the General Committee for the future conduct of the Annual Examination of Pupil Teachers in Religious Knowledge. The Conference directs that the Examination shall be held on the first Saturday in March, 1871: that the Questions shall be prepared by the General Committee; that the Examination shall be held, either in the several Circuits by the Superintendent Ministers or their Colleagues, or at suitable places for Central District Examinations, as may be determined by the September District Meetings, and agreed to by the respective School Committees; and that the written answers shall be forwarded to the General Secretary, and shall be valued by a Central Board of Examiners to be elected by the General Committee. The Conference further recommends that in connection with Central Examinations, Meetings of Teachers and Pupil-Teachers be held under the direction of the Chairman of the District, and the District Educational Secretary.

OBJECTS AND RULES OF WESLEYAN-METHODIST SUNDAY-SCHOOL CIRCUIT UNIONS.

The Conference approves the following Scheme for the formation of Wesleyan-Methodist Sunday-School Circuit Unions; and affectionately commends it to the adoption of the Committees of our Sunday-Schools throughout the Connexion.

OBJECTS.

The objects of this Union shall be:—

1. To establish mutual intercourse amongst the Officers and Teachers of the Schools in town and country.
2. To promote the opening of new, and the extension and improvement of existing, Schools.
3. To circulate information relative to the organisation and discipline of Schools, as well as the best methods of instruction.
4. To collect statistics, and report interesting particulars and instances of usefulness.
5. To stimulate and encourage those who are engaged in the religious education of the young in the Circuit to seek greater spiritual results of their labours.

RULES.

1. All Officers, Teachers, and Members of Committees in connection with the Wesleyan-Methodist Sunday-Schools in the Circuit, shall be considered Members of this Union.

2. The business of the Union shall be conducted and its funds administered by a Committee, to be constituted as follows:—

The Ministers of the Circuit (one of whom shall preside in all meetings), the Circuit Stewards, a Treasurer, two Secretaries, the School Superintendents and Secretaries of Committees, with one School Secretary and two Teachers from each of the town Schools, and one School Secretary and one Teacher from each of the country Schools; such Secretaries and Teachers to be annually chosen by the respective Teachers' Meetings. All must be members of the Wesleyan-Methodist Society.

The Secretaries of each School shall be responsible for forwarding the names and addresses of the members of the Committee elected to act on behalf of the School to the Secretaries of the Union Committee.

3. The Treasurer and Secretaries of the Union Committee, and a deputation to visit the Schools, shall be elected by the members of that Committee, at the first meeting in each year.

4. The Committee shall meet at least twice a year, to receive the reports of the deputation.

5. All the Schools in the Union shall be visited at least twice in the year by the deputation, who shall ascertain from the Secretary of each School the number of Teachers and of Scholars, with the average attendance of both; the number of Teachers and of Scholars who are members of Society, and the number of Scholars in Select Classes; whether the School regularly attends Divine worship on the Sabbath; to what extent the Conference Catechisms and Scripture Lessons are used; and the state of the Library.

It shall also be the duty of the deputation to present a Report as to the books used in the Schools, the modes of instruction employed, and the general order and efficiency of the Schools.

6. An Aggregate Meeting of the members and friends of the Union shall be held at least once a year for mutual encouragement and improvement, at which a general report of the state of the Schools shall be presented, instances of usefulness shall be detailed, and addresses delivered suited to the occasion. When thought desirable, the preparation of papers or addresses, on given subjects, shall be requested previously.

7. The Officers of each School shall furnish the Secretaries of the Union with such statistical and other information as they may require to complete the Annual Report of the Union, not later than a fortnight before the Aggregate Meeting.

8. Any expenses that may be incurred by the Union shall be defrayed by each School contributing its quota, or by private subscription.

RELIGIOUS OBSERVANCE OF THE LORD'S DAY.

Q. XXI. What are the Resolutions of the Conference on receiving the Report of the LORD'S-DAY COMMITTEE?

A. 1. The Conference receives with pleasure the Report which has been submitted by the Lord's Day Committee, and rejoices that, if no great improvement in general opinion and practice can be recognised, no additional National and Legislative encroachment has been made during the year on the sanctity of the Christian Sabbath.

2. The Conference, in view of prospective legislation in reference to the Lord's-day, hopes that the Methodist people will continue vigorously to support any well-considered measure that may be prepared for the discouragement of Sabbath desecration of any kind; and more particularly for the suppression of that traffic which, of all others, is the most inexcusable and demoralizing on the holy day of rest, the traffic in intoxicating drinks; and earnestly trusts that, in other less public ways, and especially by the maintenance of a consistent example of Sabbath keeping in their families, they will endeavour to uphold the sacredness of that day, the due observance of which is linked so closely with the prosperity of the Church and the Nation.

3. The thanks of the Conference are presented to the REV. GEORGE MAUNDER and the REV. JOHN BAKER for their valuable services during the past year, and they are re-appointed the Secretaries of the Lord's Day Committee for the ensuing year.

The Conference specially calls to mind Dr. Waddy's services in promoting the higher education of our youth, in connection with Wesley College, Sheffield, and those which he has rendered as Treasurer of the Children's Fund, as Chairman of some of our most important Districts, and pre-eminently as President of the Conference of 1859. The Conference assures Dr. Waddy that it entertains for him the most affectionate regard, and cherishes the earnest hope that his valuable life may be prolonged, so that he may yet render important service to the Church, and be enabled to afford his counsel and assistance to his brethren at their annual assemblies, and on other occasions, as his health and convenience may allow.

Resolved unanimously,—

1. That the Conference respectfully and affectionately welcomes Bishop Simpson, and the Rev. R. S. Foster, D.D., the Representatives to this Body of the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church in the United States; that it has listened, with deep interest and much edification, both to the pulpit discourses of these honoured servants of Christ, and to their addresses to the Conference; and that it will appoint a Committee to prepare an Address to the next General Conference, in reply to that which they have brought.

2. That the Conference has heard with exceeding joy the statements of the Deputation relative to the rapid progress of the work of God in connection with the Methodist Episcopal Church; and anticipates still further advancement in time to come. The Conference particularly rejoices in the removal of those obstacles to the spread of Christianity which were created or augmented by the existence of slavery as a domestic institution in the United States. It desires further to express its sympathy with the Methodist Episcopal Church in those bereavements of which the Deputation has spoken; and prays that the great "Lord of the harvest" would be pleased to repair her losses, and, while raising up for her an ample supply of well-furnished ministerial labourers, would vouchsafe to all her Ministers and people larger supplies of the Spirit of grace, and make her more extensively useful over the whole continent of America, and in all her other fields of labour.

RESOLUTION IN REPLY TO A MEMORIAL FROM THE "UNITED KINGDOM ALLIANCE."

Impressed by the terrible social and moral evils resulting from intemperance, and believing that more earnest and effective measures are necessary in order to check and repress these evils, the Conference is convinced that the reformation desired must be secured chiefly by means of moral suasion and the influence of Christian truth. It is nevertheless of opinion that the facilities afforded for the opening of Public Houses and Beer-Houses, and the temptations presented by them especially to the young and the intemperate, render the effects of the present law grossly demoralizing, and constitute a legalised hindrance to the efforts of Christian Churches. The Conference therefore declares its judgment that a reform of the present licensing system is absolutely necessary, and that in any measures which may hereafter be adopted, provision should be made, in harmony with a recognised principle of local self-government, that the ratepayers, who bear the charges resulting from the prevalence of intemperance and its consequent pauperism and crime, shall also have power to control the issue of licenses for the sale of intoxicating drinks within their respective districts. The Conference further expresses the hope that any well-considered measure tending to secure this object will meet with general and earnest support.

ANONYMOUS PAMPHLET.

An anonymous Pamphlet, entitled "A Visit to the Queen of the South," which contains slanderous and unchristian reflections upon Ministers and members of various Churches in Dumfries, having been extensively circulated in that town and neighbourhood, and suspicion as to its authorship having fallen on the Rev. Joseph H. Skewes, the Wesleyan Minister then stationed in Dumfries, the case was carefully investigated. The evidence failed to bring home the authorship to Mr. Skewes; but the Conference of 1869 passed the following Resolution, which is now published by order of the Conference of 1870, namely :—

"In the solemn judgment of this Conference the Pamphlet in question is a publication odious in itself, and utterly unworthy, not only of any Minister of the Gospel, but of any member of the Church of Christ; and if its authorship could be satisfactorily brought home to any Minister or member of this Connexion, the Conference would deem it a duty to remove any such person from association with the Body."

PROVISION FOR MINISTERS BECOMING SUPERNUMERARIES FOR ONE YEAR.

The Conference adopts the recommendations of the Committee specially appointed in 1868 to consider this subject, which recommendations have been approved by the Committees of the Auxiliary Fund, and the Home Mission and Contingent Fund, viz. :—

1. That such provision is exceedingly desirable, and in most cases urgently necessary, for the sake of those Ministers who prematurely lose their health, and is likely to be eventually economical in regard to their claims on Connexional Funds.

2. That this provision should be limited to Ministers in the Home Work who have travelled not more than twenty-nine years.

3. That it should be regulated in amount by a careful consideration of individual circumstances, and should not exceed in any case the sum of £80, in addition to the allowances payable from the Annuitant Society and Connexional Funds.

4. That it should be limited to one year, except in some very rare cases in which the Conference might deem a second year's allowance indispensable.

5. That it should be administered by a mixed Committee of seven members, to be annually appointed by the Conference, namely, the Ex-President for the time being, and three Ministers and three laymen, one to be named as convener.

6. That the total amount which may be deemed by that Committee needful for any one year should be provided in equal proportions from the Auxiliary Fund and the Home Mission and Contingent Fund.

SPECIAL COMMITTEE ON QUESTIONS RELATING TO METHODISM IN THE METROPOLIS.

The following Ministers and Gentlemen are appointed a Special Committee, to consider, during the year, the relation of the Metropolitan Chapel Building Fund to the Connexion, and its working, and the proposals of the two London District Committees on the Auxiliary Home-Mission work in London; viz.,—The PRESIDENT, and the SECRETARY of the Conference, the EX-PRESIDENT, the Secretary of the Fund, and the—

RESOLUTIONS ON THE WORK OF ARMY AND NAVY MINISTERS.

After very careful deliberation it was unanimously resolved,—

1. That when a Minister is appointed for the benefit of Wesleyans in the Army or in the Royal Navy, or both, and is supported by the Army and Navy Committee,—

If the men attending Parade Services have such services specifically held for them, all such services shall be conducted by the Minister specially appointed for their benefit.

If the men are marched to our ordinary forenoon services, in any of our Chapels, the appointments of the Army and Navy Minister, and his work on Sundays, shall be arranged between the Army Committee, through their Secretary, and the Superintendent Minister of the Circuit in each case.

2. That the whole of the week days shall be employed by the Army and Navy Minister in his specific work, who is not to have other work laid upon him without his consent.

3. That, in all things connected with his military engagements, the Army and Navy Minister shall correspond with, and act under the direction of the Army Committee; and in all other ecclesiastical matters, he shall act in concert with the Superintendent and the other Ministers of the Circuit in our usual way, attending the weekly meeting of the Ministers of the Circuit in which he may reside.

MINIMUM ALLOWANCES TO MINISTERS IN DEPENDENT CIRCUITS.

The Home-Missionary Committee of Management is directed to consider the subject of Allowances to Ministers stationed in Circuits receiving aid from the Contingent Fund, in order to devising a plan, if practicable, by which these allowances may be augmented, and a minimum sum be fixed, in accordance with the views expressed by the District Committees to which the subject has been referred.

MINISTERS' HOUSES.

The Conference adopts the following regulations of the Home-Missionary Committee of Management:—

1. That the Quarterly Meeting of any Circuit making application for an additional Minister shall furnish a House at the end of four years; and shall not only give a pledge to this effect, but shall also satisfy the District Committees that there is a reasonable probability that such pledge will be duly redeemed.

2. That any Circuit providing a House at the end of four years may receive, as heretofore, a grant of £40 towards furniture; but that, until some other regulations shall be made, if a House be provided at the end of three years, it may receive £50; if at the end of two years, £60; if at the end of one year, £70; or, if a House be provided when the additional Minister is appointed, £80.

INSURANCE OF CONNEXIONAL PROPERTY FROM FIRE.

It was resolved unanimously, That the cordial thanks of the Conference be presented to the Chapel Committee for the careful and protracted attention which they have given to this subject; and that the subject be now referred to a Select Committee, who shall review the several plans which have been proposed, and report to the next Conference. The Committee shall consist of the Revs. Dr. Osborn, James Loutit, William Edwards (A), Alexander M'Aulay, and Henry W. Holland; with Messrs. Isaac Holden, of Oakworth, Robert Haworth, of Manchester, James Barlow, of Bolton, Henry Taylor, of Birmingham, William Brown, of Gateshead, and William Utley, of Halifax.

RESOLUTIONS AFFECTING DISTRICT COMMITTEES.

1. The District Treasurers of our Foreign Missionary Society, and the Lay members of the District Chapel Sub-Committee, being Members of the Wesleyan-Methodist Society, shall be members of the District Committee during the transaction of the financial business.

2. The Minister who shall be the representative of each District to the Stationing Committee shall in future be chosen by the united votes of the Ministers and Laymen who are members of the District Committee.

CONSTITUTION OF MINOR DISTRICT MEETINGS.

The Conference substitutes for the Minute of 1793, to which reference is made in the Minutes of 1835, (Vol. vii., pp. 581, 582,) as embodying the principle of the Minor District Meeting, the following regulation, viz.—

"In all cases in which the holding of a Minor District Meeting is rendered necessary, such meeting, except under the Regulation passed by the Conference in 1840, (Minutes, vol. ix., p. 94,) shall be held in the District in which the accused party resides, the accused and the accuser selecting respectively two Ministers from the said District, who, with the Chairman thereof, shall constitute the Minor District Meeting."

Should either party refuse or decline to choose two Ministers, to act as Members of the Meeting, the Chairman is empowered and directed to nominate them, so that the number required by rule may be made up.

DIVISION OF CIRCUITS.

The Conference resolves, that before District Committees consent to the division of any Circuit, inquiry must be made whether due attention has been paid to satisfactory arrangements for the Trust-estates affected by the proposed division, especially in reference to any debts existing thereon.

CONTAGIOUS DISEASES ACTS.

The Conference sent a Petition to be presented to both Houses of Parliament for the repeal of these Acts, and referred the consideration of further action on the subject to the Committee of Exigency.

MISCELLANEOUS RESOLUTIONS.

1. Thanks to the retiring President.—Resolved unanimously, That the affectionate and cordial thanks of the Conference be presented to its late President, the Rev. Dr. Jobson, for the earnest, courteous, and efficient discharge of his official duties, both during the Session of the last Conference and throughout the year.

3. The Ex-President's Official Sermon.—Resolved unanimously, That the cordial thanks of the Conference be presented to the Ex-President, the Rev. Dr. Jobson, for the appropriate and powerful Discourse which he delivered in the Conference Chapel, Burslem, on Sunday morning, July 31st.

5. The Rev. S. Romilly Hall's Charge.—Resolved unanimously, That the cordial thanks of the Conference be presented to the Rev. Samuel Romilly Hall for the very valuable Charge addressed by him to the second division of the newly-ordained Ministers; and that he be requested to publish it.

George Osborn, D.D., for the very able and powerful Lecture delivered by him on Monday Evening, July 25th, on the Mission and Work of the Holy Spirit, being the first of the Lectures generously founded by John Fernley, Esq., of Southport.

7. Bishop Simpson's Sermon. — Resolved unanimously, That the respectful and hearty thanks of the Conference be presented to Bishop Simpson, for the comprehensive and powerful Sermon which he preached before the Conference, on Monday, August 1st; and that he be earnestly requested to publish it.

8. The Rev. R. S. Foster's Sermon. — Resolved unanimously, That the cordial thanks of the Conference be presented to the Rev. R. S. Foster, D.D., for the masterly and impressive Discourse which he delivered in the Conference Chapel, Burslem, on Sunday Evening, July 31st; and that he be earnestly requested to publish it.

9. The Rev. Alexander M'Aulay's Visit to Zetland.—Resolved unanimously, That the hearty thanks of the Conference be presented to the Rev. Alexander M'Aulay, for the zeal and ability with which he has fulfilled the mission to Zetland, entrusted to him by the last Conference.

10. Invitations of Ministers to Circuits.—The Conference rescinds the rule of 1865 on this subject, with the exception of the clause, that "the Conference unanimously and earnestly recommends that the Quarterly Meetings, throughout the Connexion, should defer such invitations till the March Quarterly Meetings."

11. It is resolved, That the Annual Meetings of the several District Committees shall be held between the 14th and the 21st of May, 1871, with the exception of the Lincoln, North Wales, South Wales, Isle of Man, and Zetland-Isles Districts.

STANDING ORDERS.

1. Home-Missionary Ministers.—(1.) At each Financial District Meeting a return shall be made, from each Circuit in which a Home-Missionary Minister is stationed, of the sum contributed by the Circuit to the Home-Mission Fund, and of the cost of such appointment to the Home-Mission Committee; according to the "Regulations for the employment of Home-Missionary Ministers" adopted by the Conference of 1859.

(2.) The Conference directs that a special inquiry shall be made at the May District Meeting, whether the Regulations for the employment of Home-Missionary Ministers, adopted by the Conference, have been faithfully observed in the Circuits to which Home-Missionary Ministers are appointed; and that a Report in each case shall be made to the Conference.

2. Candidates for Ordination. — The Conference directs that Candidates for Ordination shall, at or before the May District Meeting, preach before three Ministers of the District, who shall report to the Meeting.

3. Preachers on Trial.—(1.) The Conference, having been informed that in several Circuits the Preachers on Trial have very rarely an opportunity of receiving the Lord's Supper, resolves that, in compliance with a former injunction on this subject, the Superintendents be required to make the necessary arrangements, in their Circuit-Plans, for securing to their junior Colleagues proper facilities for partaking of this holy sacrament. (2.) Whenever it shall be found to be practicable, Preachers on Trial shall preach during the District Meetings.

4. Candidates for Admission on Trial. — Those Preachers who are recommended for admission on Trial shall preach in the presence of at least three of the Ministers of the District Committee, (at or about the time of its Annual Meeting in May,) to be selected by the Chairman, exclusively of the Superintendents by whom the Candidates respectively are proposed; and a special report of the Sermons shall be made in the District Meeting, and immediately forwarded in writing to the London Committee of Examination.

5. Attendance of Ministers at Official Meetings.— Mistakes having arisen on this subject, the Conference deems it proper and necessary to declare, that all the Ministers and Preachers on Trial appointed to a Circuit have a constitutional right to take part as members in our Leaders'-Meetings, and in all other official meetings of the Circuits to which they are appointed.

6. Supply of Vacancies.—Instances having occurred in which Superintendents and other Ministers, needing Circuit-supplies on occasion of sickness and various casualties, have applied to the President of the Conference without first taking counsel with the Chairman of the District; the Conference directs the brethren to return to the old plan of first communicating with the Chairman in every such case.

7. Liverpool Minutes.—The Resolutions adopted by the Conference in the year 1820, and usually called the "Liverpool Minutes," besides being read and considered in the Annual Meeting of each District Committee, (as our standing Regulations require,) shall also be read at the Weekly Meeting of Ministers in each Circuit, next following the September Quarterly Meeting; and the Chairmen of Districts are directed to make inquiry concerning the due observance of this regulation.

8. District Minutes. — The Chairmen of Districts are required to procure three complete copies of the Minutes of the several Annual and other Meetings of the District Committees, transcribed according to the order of time in which such Meetings shall have been held, and duly signed by the Chairman and Secretary. One of these copies shall be inserted in the District Records; a second shall be reserved for the use of the Chairman and Financial Secretary at the Conference; and a third shall be delivered to the Assistant-Secretaries, on the Wednesday preceding the Conference, and by them to the President during the first week of each Conference, to be preserved, under his direction, as a document appertaining to the Connexion. The several copies of the last class shall be written on foolscap paper, that they may be annually bound together in one volume.

9. Annual Return of Members in Society.—The number of Members in Society, and of persons admitted on trial, as taken at the March Quarterly Visitation in each year, and reported in the Circuit-Schedules presented at the District Meetings, shall be the number returned on the Minutes of the following Conference.

10. Circuit Schedules.—In order to bring the state and progress of the work of God in every Circuit distinctly under the examination of the District Meetings, copies of the Printed Circuit Schedules, duly filled up, shall be annually produced, examined, and considered. The Chairmen of Districts are made responsible for the execution of this order. (See also Minutes for 1831, Q. xxv.; Vol. VII., p. 67.)

The Circuit Schedules containing the Returns of the Members in Society are to be forwarded, immediately after the May District-Meetings, to the Rev. Alexander M'Aulay, 5, The Grove, Stratford.

11. Schedules and Circulars on Connexional Business.—As it is obviously desirable that the Committees appointed by the Conference to manage the several departments of the business of the Connexion, in the intervals of its session, should be furnished with as much statistical information as possible on the matters of business severally confided to their care, the Conference authorises them, through their appointed Officers, to send, when they deem it expedient, suitable Circulars and Schedules to the Superintendents, or to the Chairmen of Districts, as the case may require;

and directs the Superintendents and Chairmen duly to return such Schedules properly filled up.

12. Lay-Members of Connexional Committees.—(1.) At the Annual Meeting of each District Committee in Great Britain, one Gentleman, being a member of the Society, shall be chosen by the lay-members of the District-Committee, to be a member of the Committee of the Home-Mission and Contingent Fund, held preparatory to the Conference; and the Gentleman so chosen shall have the right to attend, and take part in the proceedings of, the Annual Meetings of the Missionary Committee, the Schools' Committee, the Chapel Committee, the Theological Institution Committee, and the Education Committee, held preparatory to the Conference.

(2.) In respect to the several Committees of the Connexional Funds, it is resolved, that a certain number of lay gentlemen shall retire annually by rotation, the same persons being eligible for immediate re-appointment.

13. Quarterly Fast-Days.—The days upon which the Quarterly Fast, appointed by Rule, is to be observed throughout the Connexion, for the following year, are, Fridays, September 30th, December 30th, March 31st, and June 30th.

14. Rule of 1797 concerning Admission of Members.—Mistakes having occasionally arisen respecting the meaning of the Rule of 1797, on the subject of the admission of persons who are on trial as members of our Society, the Conference deems it necessary to repeat the statement, That it never was intended that the names of all those who are on trial should be laid before a Leaders' Meeting for distinct and formal discussion; but solely, that if there be, in the opinion of a Leader, any reasonable objection to the character and conduct of any person who is on trial, such objection may be stated by him; and that, if the validity of the objection be established to the satisfaction of the Meeting, a Member's Ticket shall not be given to the person, so objected to, at the Quarterly Visitation.

15. Trial of Members.—When a charge is brought against any Member resident in a place where no Leaders'-Meeting is statedly held, the case shall be referred for investigation to the Leaders'-Meeting of the principal Society in the Circuit-town. The Leader or Leaders, and the Society Stewards, of the Society of which the accused is a member, shall be associated with the Leaders'-Meeting for the purposes of the investigation.

16. Reading of the Pastoral Address in Society-Meetings.—The Superintendents are directed to appoint Special Society-Meetings to be held at the principal Chapels in their Circuits, for the purpose of having the Pastoral Address read, and made the subject of suitable remarks and exhortations.

17. Contingent Fund.—In future, all payments on account of Ordinary Deficiencies shall be made through the medium of the Financial Secretaries of Districts. The payments on account of Home Missionaries are to be made directly to and by the Treasurers of the Fund.

18. The Army.—The Chairmen of Districts are directed to inquire of the Superintendents of Circuits in which troops are marched to Divine service in our chapels, the average number of non-commissioned officers and men in attendance; distinguishing the number of members in Society. The returns given are to be recorded in the District Minutes. If there be no military attendance in the District, a note to that effect shall be inserted.

19. Conference Plan.—The Superintendents of those Circuits in which the Conference may from year to year assemble, shall, with the previous approbation of the President, (as already required by rule,) complete and print, not later than the 15th day of June in each year, a Plan of the order of preaching in the principal chapels during the Session of the Conference; and shall also, on or before the above date, inform every person whom they have appointed to preach in those chapels, of the time and place of such appointment. And in order that the Plan thus prepared may not be violated, to the disappointment of our friends, and to the great inconvenience of other parties concerned, no Minister who attends the Conference shall be at liberty to make an engagement to preach in any other Circuit, either on the Sabbath, or on any other day, during the period appointed for the meeting of the Conference, or of its various Preparatory Committees, at the time for which his name shall be inserted on the Conference Plan.

20. The Chairmen of Districts are enjoined to make particular inquiries at their Annual Meetings in reference to all the points of Discipline specified in the first Article of the Answer to Q. XXVIII. in the Minutes of 1825.

LIST OF GENERAL COLLECTIONS AND SUBSCRIPTIONS FOR 1870-71.

The following are the usual and regular Collections which are to be made in all our Circuits during the ensuing year; viz.,—

1. The private Donations in the Classes, on behalf of the Worn-out Ministers' and Ministers' Widows'

Auxiliary Fund, shall be entered in the Class-Books at the next September Visitation, and collected in the month of October, and forwarded at once to the District-Treasurer. (See Q. xxvii., A. 2, Minutes of 1851.)

Frederick Payne, Mold, Flintshire, one of the General Secretaries for the School-Fund. Each Superintendent must also send to Mr. Payne a particular account of the sums contributed to the Fund, and of all claims for Educational Allowances in his Circuit, specifying distinctly the names of the children for whose education the claims are made, the date, year, and place of their birth, and the exact number of years during which the allowance has been received.

Subscriptions and Donations are to be paid to the Treasurers as early as possible.

THE ANNUAL ADDRESS

CONFERENCE

TO

THE METHODIST SOCIETIES.

Dearly Beloved Brethren,

Assembled in Conference for your sakes, to promote the well-being of that portion of the Catholic Church which the common Lord, who made us a people, has entrusted to Methodism, we have the sustaining comfort of your sympathy, and the help of your prayers. And you also, whom for a season we have been compelled to leave, have our daily intercessions that in the needful absence of His servants the Master's presence may be abundantly manifest among you.

We came together with a painful impression of responsibility, and of the insufficiency of human judgment. We lifted up our hearts to Him who giveth His wisdom to them that distrust their own; and, to His praise be it spoken, we have never had clearer signs of His favour. We believe that He has sent the Spirit of counsel into our deliberations, and the Spirit of might upon our public services. By the marked demonstration which has attended the ministry of the Word in these services, He has re-commissioned us to go forth and preach it with more fidelity to "every creature under heaven."

We are not met in council for the definition and settlement of Gospel truths. We have no doubt that what our first preachers bequeathed as the doctrinal legacy of Methodism is "the faith which was once delivered unto the saints." We believe the Word of God, and preach it, in the sense in which they accepted and declared it. We do not for a moment think that the interpretation of Scripture must vary with the shifting aspects of human progress. We do not restrict the mercy of God, which is infinite; but we dare not touch the limitations of doctrine: they are the old landmarks of God's heritage. Where He placed them we leave them. A sinner can no more be saved now, except by believing in Jesus, than he could in the days when it was said, "There is none other Name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved." There is "one faith," and "one baptism," as there is "one Lord." Brethren, pray for your preachers, that the Word of Christ, as it passes from us to you, may never, through a deceitful or uncertain handling, be wrested from the dogmatic simplicity of its declarations, to make it seem more probable to human reason, or to obtain for it the sanction of "science." There will be, in a large assembly of ministers, different schools of thought and varieties of taste; but we have not, and cannot have, different schools of theological interpretation. Herein, in these days of lax theology, lies our strength among the Churches of Christendom.

We accept this unity of doctrine, which from the beginning has been the marked feature of Methodist preaching, as God's special gift to enable us to speak throughout the world with one voice; that, in addition to the witness of distinct congregations, the world may have from us the testimony of a concerted declaration, that "repentance and remission of sins" must be preached, in Christ's name, "among all nations." Brethren, if God has raised us up to proclaim the "faithful saying," "from the river to the ends of the earth," it is only by your co-operation that this Divine purpose can be carried out. The ministry is reinforced by you: our zeal was first kindled at your altars,—your Societies are the nurseries of all our agencies; and as these rise up among us they reflect the standard, whatever it be, of your intelligence, piety, and zeal. Therefore we are strong or weak through you, and with you.

Suffer then a word of exhortation on some of the more important of the duties that just now press upon you and us with unusual urgency. You say that as ministers we ought to contend earnestly for the hearts and service of our young people. We are persuaded, with you, that this duty is second to none of the obligations of the ministry; but we are convinced also that you must divide the task with us, and appropriate the larger share of its labour and responsibility. What we attempt in the pulpit, you must follow up in the house. The occasional exhortations of a service, however ably and faithfully addressed, cannot contend against neutrality in the family. We solemnly counsel parents to add to the teachings and influences of the sanctuary the strength of a positive encouragement at home. The indulgence of levity in sacred things, if unrebuked by the gravity of a parent, may undo the effect of a hundred lessons from the pulpit. The light and jesting humour of young people, when allowed to play upon the truths of the Bible, or the ordinances of the Church, frequently hardens into serious scepticism. Infidelity, than which, in itself, nothing can be more grim and repelling, derives half its strength and all its popularity from the flippancy of its spirit. Help us to save your children. The sons and daughters of the present age will comprise the next generation of the Church. By all that that Church has done for you and your families, by all that you hope it will yet do, when in the failing energies of life's close you shall most need the ministries of its help and consolation, we implore you to place every possible defence, and especially the guardianship of your own consistency, around the spiritual growth of each of your children. You will best train them for the world when you nurture them for the Lord. And yet, while we write these things unto you, we remember that if you should leave nothing undone for them in the family, and we should be equally faithful in the pulpit and in visitation, the enemies of youthful piety are so strong from their number, their perilous arts, and their incessant opposition, that there is no hope for you or us but in that fervent supplication which makes us labourers together with God, who, according to His ancient family-covenant, shows "mercy unto thousands of them that love Him and keep His commandments."

But we are persuaded, dear brethren, that your sympathies with Christ's work are not restricted to the action of that work upon yourselves and your children. You desire to see in vigorous and hopeful operation all the institutions of Methodism; both those which we have in common with other Churches, and those that distinguish our own Body. Do you wish to see crowds of unconverted people flocking to hear the invitations of the Gospel, and your ministers surrounded by their bands of local preachers and leaders doing the old Methodist work, which is, indeed, the old apostolic work, of saving souls from death, and adding them daily to the Church? We are sure that many of you would prefer such a manifestation of God's presence in the midst of Zion above your chief joy. But remember, that you, no less than ourselves, are called to be the instruments of such a work. Will each one of you unite with us in putting these questions to himself? Am I, according to the ability which God has given me, endeavouring to increase the number of the hearers of the Gospel; diminishing that vast proportion of men and women in England who never visit the house of prayer, even on the Sabbath? And when I and my family are found in the sanctuary, have we contributed to the decorum and strength of its services, by the punctuality of our attendance? Do I watch for souls outside the limits of my own pew; remembering that the Master has sent me there not merely to worship, but to work for Him, and that, according to the measure of whatever I am able to contribute to it, I am answerable to God for the spiritual success of a public service? Beloved, these inquiries are strictly applicable to every member of our Societies; and did each one of us live in the spirit of such an examination, Methodism would soon feel throughout all her Circuits the happy embarrassment of over-crowded chapels, and would share the surprise no less than the perplexity of the old Church, "Who hath begotten Me these?" "The place is too strait for me: give place to me that I may dwell."

But our strength is not in the multitude of congregations, but in the cohesion of our members. The condition of an aggressive and converting Church is the communion of saints. The caution, not to forget "the assembling of ourselves together," refers not only to the congregating of religious assemblies, but also to the communion of the members of the Church. Unless these "speak often one to another," there can be no review of each other's spiritual life, no confession of sin one to another, no mutual exhortation, no praying with and for each other, all of which are expressly enjoined by the Holy Ghost. It is an error, and a serious misreading of the Spirit's teaching, to suppose that the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper comprehends and satisfies these requirements of social help. The "communion of the body and blood of Christ," of which we beseech you constantly to partake, is the attestation of a fellowship already established. The act manifests, but does not make, the members of a Church. The primitive Christians and early Churches lived upon fellowship: it was their safety in peril; the secret of their growth in seasons of peace; and their neglect of it was always the beginning of spiritual languor, the mother of heresy and schism. Whatever may be alleged against that mode of Christian fellowship which is in use among ourselves, it was the origin of Methodism: the peculiar features of our system have grown out of the Class-Meeting. It gave you your preachers; for in the Class-Meeting were first discerned the gifts which the Spirit dispenses for the perfecting of the saints, and the work of the ministry. If we have an advantage over other Churches, in the minute knowledge of what every member is able to do for Christ, and in the readiness with which we can lay our hand upon every kind of ability and influence, we owe this superiority to the weekly assembling of ourselves together. We exhort you on every ground to value the pearl of Methodist privileges. To surrender the Class-Meeting is to take the heart out of Methodism; to esteem it lightly is to enfeeble the pulsations of that heart. We were never more firmly convinced, beloved, than we now are, that unless we feed the strength of our weekly fellowship, the other parts of the Connexional system can never work together except by the application of such stimulants as exhaust, instead of repairing, its natural energies. We have had occasion, during this Conference, to re-assert the cardinal position of the Class-Meeting in the economy of Methodism, and our determination, by God's help, to maintain it.

We need hardly remind you, dear brethren, that we shall have new duties thrust upon us in the cause of Elementary Education. Whatever may be the nature of those duties, we ought not to allow any difference of judgment, as to the mode in which a great and pressing work should be done, to prevent the hearty co-operation of all Methodists in the effort to drive ignorance from the land, which, indeed, is one means of "spreading holiness" over it. We call upon you, as citizens, diligently to use whatever power may be entrusted to you for the education of the poor; to remember the claims of the Bible; and while you are giving influence and money to feed the destitute with knowledge, not to permit the exclusion of "the bread of life."

We exhort you, whether personally engaged in such institutions or not, to give the encouragement of your sympathy and support to the Sabbath-schools of your several Societies; to help the officers and teachers to make them more effective, and to bring them more closely into union with the preaching and fellowship agencies of Methodism. Sunday-schools are elementary seminaries affiliated to the Church. There is a field now opening for Sabbath-school culture, which, if occupied and thoroughly worked, will make it the means of incalculable increase. It will bring into sympathetic union with us large numbers of poor families, from which Methodism has always derived her riches; and it is not improbable that, as the necessity of the Sabbath-school becomes more and more pressing and appreciated, our chief numerical gain will come from this source.

Permit us to point out one or two perils against which we must have a concerted action, and maintain an unbroken defence. A worldly spirit has got into Christ's Church; help us to drive it out. Its dissimulation was never so dangerous because never so subtle as it is now It invades the quiet of the Sabbath, and would deprive the poor working man of this immemorial heritage of rest. Under the guise of philanthropy and beneficence it would make Sabbath-hours a holiday, and throw down the greatest bulwark of our England's order and moral strength. We beseech you, on behalf of the Lord of the Sabbath, to discountenance, by the strongest expression of your disapproval, every attempt, by whomsoever sanctioned, to tamper with the universal sanctification of the Lord's Day. We need hardly add, that your ability to promote the maintenance of Sabbath rights, and the religious observance of them, will be in proportion to the consistency of your own practice, and the example of your own home. We beseech you, moreover, to unite with us in lifting up the voice of Methodism against the crying intemperance of the land. In many of our Circuits it is the mightiest enemy of the evangelist; in all of them it is so prolific of evil, that in nearly every path of our work we encounter its results. We call upon you to testify against it, as citizens acting upon the Legislature, and as Methodists acting upon your own immediate circles. We have more to fear from the worldliness and ungodliness of a nominal Christian land than from the errors that infest the Church. God's truth changes not; it is its own defence; but God's Church will grow strong in position and in numbers as His people show themselves everywhere the uncompromising enemies of sin. We are united in force, marshalled together, and led on by Christ, to fight this adversary, and every foe falls when we overcome sin. Let us wield the irresistible power of an unblamable life; let it be our argument in the pulpit, and your illustration in the home, in business, and in the recreations of literature and of health.

You will be happy to learn that in all these resolves, and in the cares and exhortations which in this Address we have so freely expressed to you, we have been cheered and supported by the visit of honoured brethren from the Methodist Episcopal Church of the United States of America. In your name we have greeted them as fellow-soldiers entrusted with the same banner; and have recognised in their catholic spirit, and most able ministrations, the true successors of the eminent men who established Methodism on that great continent. Their eloquent speeches and sermons raised us, for the time, above the limits of our own Body; and we felt that we were but one member of a great Methodist household whose home is commensurate with the world. Their account of a confluent immigration into the United States from all quarters of the world, and of the formation of Methodist Churches that re-act upon the nations from which the streams of emigration have flowed, afforded a new and memorable proof that the Head of the Church has, by special intimations of Providence, largely entrusted to us the defence, the experimental vindication, and the diffusion of Protestant Christianity. Let us help our Transatlantic brethren, and the Societies of Canada, to concentrate the zeal of Methodism at this time upon the proclamation of the Gospel, rather than upon the subordinate tasks of controversy. Methodism is eminently a preaching Church; and while the ark of God among us has never wanted defenders in times of danger, it seems to be our province, the highest that can be allotted to a Church, to testify to a condemned world "repentance toward God, and faith toward our Lord Jesus Christ."

We have also received visitors from nearly every part of the earth,—representatives from Affiliated Conferences, and Missionaries labouring under our own direction, who, like Barnabas and Paul, the deputation from the Church in Antioch, have declared what wonders God is working among the Gentiles through them. The fruits of Gospel labour among pagan populations are not to be set down by the pen of man, and the increase in our foreign stations of nearly three thousand is hardly an index of the successful approaches which have been made during the year towards the inevitable overthrow of the depraving and tyrannical institutions of idolatry. The returned Missionaries who have been presented to us at this Conference for recognition, most of whom will leave again their native shores to resume the labours they love, have gladdened our hearts by the hopeful spirit of their testimony. They have told us that the Lord is working with them; honouring in remote countries the same truth which we preach at home. Let us strengthen Foreign Missions by more vigorous Home-Missions. Never was lifted up in England a more general and earnest cry for Methodist work. We are not merely invited to push our efforts beyond the boundaries of Circuits already defined and occupied, but the appeal for help from far outlying populations, hiving together in our large towns, comes to 'us in tones of touching reproach and rebuke, "No man careth for our souls." Circumscribed by straitened means, our efforts in this direction have fallen far short of our desires. Seventy-five of the brethren are engaged in breaking up new ground; and each of them is aided by a staff of voluntary workers, who penetrate here and there a little way into the almost unbroken ignorance and wickedness of the masses. We acknowledge, to the praise of God, that some of the most encouraging results we have reaped during the year have come from the Home-Mission field. Dear brethren, let every one of you be a Home-Missionary in your own neighbourhoods, and next year we shall report a larger increase than two thousand nine hundred and twenty-five, with twenty thousand four hundred and thirty-three on trial. That this increase is not greater should awaken a heart-searching examination in you and in us. The Lord is as willing to add unto His Church daily as in the times of Pentecostal success. For ourselves, we have felt the need of renewed dedication to God; ere we resume the work of proclaiming the truth, we are praying for a new demonstration of it to our hearts, that we may return to you in "the fulness of the blessing of the Gospel of Christ." We are beginning an eventful year; even as we write these words the Ruler of all is altering the positions of nations, and inscrutably advancing His purposes by the strange ministry of conflict and blood. The kingdoms of this world must pass under the chastening hand of the righteous Father before they can become "the kingdoms of our Lord, and of His Christ." God's chief instruments, in the advancement of His kingdom, are the ministers of His Gospel; but if human ambition or ecclesiastical assumption and tyranny obstruct the progress of His truth, He sometimes selects other means; and if He is now pleased to march against His enemies with political convulsion and revolution, we will stand by in silence, and pray that when "the wrath of man" has "praised" Him, the "remainder" of that wrath He may "restrain."

We join with you in earnest prayer for the unity, fidelity, and increase of all the people of God, for the restoration of tranquillity to Europe, and for the unbroken peace of our own country.

Signed on behalf and by order of the Conference,

JOHN FARRAR, President,
JOHN H. JAMES, Secretary.

THE ANNUAL ADDRESS

OF THE

IRISH CONFERENCE, 1870,

TO THE

BRITISH CONFERENCE OF 1870.

Beloved Fathers and Brethren,

We esteem it no small privilege to be favoured with an Address from your Conference, not only because it indicates our continued Connexional oneness, but also tends to strengthen those bonds by which British and Irish Methodism are united. At no former period has the reception of such a communication afforded us greater satisfaction than at present. The kindly interest which you take in our affairs excites our gratitude, while we most affectionately reciprocate your fraternal regards.

With devout thankfulness to God we learn the growing influence which you exert upon the general population of your country, the aggressive character of your admirably conducted Home-Mission enterprise, and the special attention which you have given to the spiritual nurture of the young. Greatly do we rejoice in the results of your plans and labours, and earnestly do we pray for your increased prosperity.

With most thoughtful concern we have watched the course of important public movements in England, especially that of Primary Education. We have marked the intense interest which this latter question has excited amongst all classes and creeds. We feel deep anxiety in relation to the ultimate issue of the struggle, both because of the powerful influence for good or evil which the results must exercise upon the moral and social condition of the country, and the necessary bearing of the subject upon the future prospects of Ireland; tending, as it does, to promote evangelical truth and righteousness, or to strengthen the hands of a crafty Ultramontanism that is putting forth constant and unscrupulous efforts to fetter human intellect, extinguish all aspirations after religious freedom, and uproot Protestantism out of the land. We have reason to believe that at the present time some influential parties in our own country are employing all available means to destroy "united education," and to substitute for it what would be exclusively "denominational." We cannot doubt that such a change would be most calamitous, and we trust that both by the course which you take in reference to Primary Education in England, and your influence with the Legislature, you will aid us in defeating the schemes of those who would employ the money of the State to "destroy our national independence, to bar the sinner from the Saviour, and to shut out man from God." Fervently do our prayers ascend to Him who hath the hearts of all men in His hands, that He may guide to right conclusions, and overrule all for the welfare of the entire nation and for His own glory.

Looking back upon the year just closed, we feel a deep sense of gratitude to the great Head of the Church for the measure of success graciously vouchsafed in connection with our labours. Through many difficulties He has aided us; and, though emigration and death have deprived us of at least an average number of our people, we are enabled to report an increase in the number of members in Society greater than for several years past. Gladly do we convey this cheering intelligence, especially as we are assured you will rejoice with us over these gathered fruits of our hallowed toil. In addition to the encouragement inspired by accessions to our numbers, the Lord of the harvest, "answering His needy servants' cry," is raising up among us, and sending forth labourers, so that ten young men have been ordained at this Conference to the work of the ministry, and the same number of candidates have been admitted on trial.

It is also due to you, who have so kindly granted us the highly-valued services of the Rev. William Arthur, M.A., that you should be informed of the marked success of the Methodist College at Belfast, under his presidency. We have no doubt that the wide-spread benefits derived throughout our country from this Institution will prove to you a cause of satisfaction, particularly as you have evinced a deep interest in its welfare; not only granting us our first request, but more recently giving us permission to make an appeal to your people on behalf of the Endowment Fund, to which they have so generously responded.

You are aware that since our last Conference remarkable ecclesiastical changes have occurred in this country, as the result of Imperial legislation. While these have called forth in the Churches immediately concerned a spirit of liberality which affords encouraging prospects of success in meeting the difficulties incident to so great a change, there is nevertheless in these altered circumstances occasion for renewed effort on our part, not only to sustain but to increase our agency, that the spiritual requirements of our country may be met. At this crisis it would be of unspeakable advantage to our cause were we in a position largely to augment our ministry; but though numerous most promising openings claim prompt attention, our limited means forbid the attempt to occupy them, and we have been compelled to refuse urgent requests for additional Ministers, except in a few instances, in granting which we have gone to the utmost limits our funds will allow.

Notwithstanding the many disadvantages with which we are obliged to contend, our hope of future prosperity is brightening. With peculiar adaptation in doctrines and usages for meeting the wants of this country, with quickened spirituality amongst our Societies, and increased readiness to aid our schemes of Christian enterprise, we go forth, implicity confiding in Him who can "help with many, or with them that have no power," and resolving to "attempt great things for God, and to expect great things from God."

We are happy to inform you that our Conference has been distinguished by close attention to business, brotherly harmony, and Divine comfort. Greatly are we indebted to the wisdom, kindness, Christian spirit, and impartiality of our President, the Rev. Frederick J. Jobson, D.D., whose powerful ministrations of Gospel truth have deeply impressed and much profited the ministers and people who were privileged to hear them. Most cordially have we renewed our welcome to the Ex-President, the Rev. Samuel Romilly Hall, who has rendered us much valuable aid in various forms, and whom we have learned to admire and love for his thoughtful insight into our affairs, and his hearty sympathy with our work. We sincerely regretted the absence of the Rev. John H. James, D.D., especially because of the providential visitation which deprived us of his presence. We felt thankful, however, that his place was so ably filled by the Rev. William Shaw, whose matured judgment and timely suggestions were highly appreciated. During the brief stay of the Rev. Luke H. Wiseman, M.A. he, too, won our brotherly regard.

The brethren who are appointed this year to represent us in your Conference are the Rev. Joseph W. M'Kay, who is also nominated for the Delegation, the Rev. Robert G. Jones, and the Rev. James C. Bass. In them we have the fullest confidence.

And now, fully conscious of our infinite obligations to God, impressed by a sense of our augmented responsibilities, and with hopeful anticipations of spiritual prosperity, we return to our several fields of ministerial toil, depending for success on the promise of Him who has declared, "He that goeth forth and weepeth, bearing precious seed, shall doubtless come again with rejoicing, bringing his sheaves with him."

Signed on behalf and by order of the Conference,

JOSEPH W. M'KAY, Secretary.

THE ANSWER

OF THE

BRITISH CONFERENCE, 1870,

TO THE

ADDRESS OF THE IRISH CONFERENCE OF 1870.

Reverend and dear Brethren,

Your fraternal Address has given us much pleasure, and we have affectionately welcomed your Representatives, as we always receive the brethren whom you depute to join us in our annual assemblies. We still remember manly forms no longer to be seen among us, and voices now still in death. The dead, however, yet speak in that unbroken succession of "faithful men" to whom they committed this ministry before their departure; and in the honoured brethren whom you have now sent to us we thankfully recognise the Representatives of a ministerial brotherhood not unworthy to be the inheritors of their sainted Fathers.

The work of God committed to your care has been publicly reported upon to our people by the Delegate and his colleagues with much spirit and ability, fully sustaining the impression of former years, and exciting a deeper and more intelligent interest in your affairs.

Mr. Wesley's love for Ireland and Irish Methodism has been inherited by his British sons, and our interest in your country has not been lessened by recent public events. Amidst exciting political and ecclesiastical changes, it is a great satisfaction to remember that the mission of Methodism remains unchanged. Existing and long-tried agencies will meet any new conditions that may be created by Imperial legislation: the weapons of our warfare are still mighty to conquer old antagonists; and never, perhaps, did Ireland more need Methodism, or offer for its vigorous and aggressive action a more promising field, than at the present time.

We see nothing, either in accomplished or in impending events, to darken your future or to damp your courage. It is yours to watch a wily foe. Popery publicly advances haughtier claims. With indignation and sorrow, but without surprise, we witness the latest development of the great "mystery of iniquity" in the declaration of the dogma of Papal infallibility—a defiance of God, of history, and of revealed truth. The "beast" must open "his mouth in blasphemy against God." The "man of sin" must be fully revealed,—assume Divine prerogatives, and fill up the proportions of the antichrist clearly outlined in prophecy,—and then be finally destroyed. That "wicked one" the "Lord shall consume with the spirit of His mouth, and shall destroy with the brightness of His coming."

The success which God has given you in the course of the year fully warrants the cheerful tone of your Address. Not at any time has your labour been "in vain in the Lord;" but we heartily congratulate you that, during the past year, God has enabled you to gather so much fruit on your own fields which you have cultivated with so much toil. Your chapel and school extension, and the gradual liquidation of your chapel debts, are works to be measured, not by the achievements of wealthy churches, but by the small means at your command; whilst your numerical increase of several hundred members, notwithstanding the continued drain of emigration, is a direct encouragement for the past, and a precious earnest for the future. When we mark the life and growth of your Societies; when we see that the seed of the Church is in herself, and that the Spirit who dwells in her still calls and qualifies men "for the work of the ministry, for the edifying of the body of Christ," we glorify God in you.

We are satisfied that you do not exaggerate the importance to Ireland of the provision made for higher education in the foundation of the Methodist College at Belfast. Your encouraging report of the growth of the College, and your repeated acknowledgment of the eminent service rendered in connection with it by our beloved brother, the Rev. William Arthur, M.A., are most gratifying to us; and we trust that, though we are unable to accede to the request for the re-appointment of Mr. Arthur on the expiration of his present term of service, the bright promise of its initial stages may be abundantly realised in the growing prosperity of future years.

We also offer you our congratulations upon the success of your appeal for financial help in connection with the College, and especially upon the liberal contributions of some of your own countrymen unto whom you have "sown spiritual things." Irish Methodists are the most patriotic of Irishmen, and the substantial expressions of love for "fatherland" which have reached you from prosperous emigrants who have settled on other shores, are "an odour of a sweet smell." It is honourable both to them and to you. "It hath pleased them, verily; and your debtors they are."

It is our privilege also to speak of enlargement in every department of our work. Additions of cases of clear conversion, and the edification and growth of believers in faith and holiness, are convincing evidence that God is with us. In our compact organization, in our manifold agency, and in a large share of public confidence, He has set before us "an open door." We desire to enter it. The cry of our Connexion is for aggression. Ministers, office-bearers, and the great body of our people, "stand fast in one spirit, with one mind striving together for the faith of the Gospel." The public services held in connection with the Conference have been marked by more than an ordinary degree of unction and blessing, exciting high anticipations for the coming year.

We fully appreciate the sympathising interest you take in those public movements which seriously affect the social and religious condition of the people of this country, and which may possibly influence the course of future legislation in Ireland. The subject of Primary Education has been earnestly discussed, not only in Parliament, but among "all classes and creeds," and it has claimed the serious consideration of the most thoughtful and experienced friends of education in our own Body. That religious instruction is an essential part of education is a first principle unanimously reaffirmed by ourselves, and accepted by the nation at large. The British people have refused to put a ban on God's Book, excluding it from schools supported out of the public funds, and they have equally refused to allow State-aided schools to be converted into proselytizing institutions. For ourselves, the zeal, energy, and liberality of our Connexion in the cause of general education have yielded very gratifying results, and we should be sorry to surrender an agency that has done honour to our denomination and wrought much good to the country; but we fully admit the existence of a vast area of ignorance outside the circle of all denominational effort, that can only be cultivated by wise and Christian legislation, and at the public cost.

"And now, brethren," we "commend you to God, and to the word of His grace." We have always admired your patient endurance of labour under very discouraging conditions, and we have often been refreshed by your "joy of faith." Reversing the order of words which Sacred History writes, "Ye labour, and other men enter into your labours," the fruit of your toil has been largely gathered on other shores; the handful of corn, dispersed by emigration, has sown itself on every soil. Your sons and daughters have carried into the far-reaching boughs of Methodism much of the fatness of the parent stem. You will not "lose" what you have "wrought;" for though you may not be able to count in your Church-returns every convert God has given you, yet "the Lord shall count, when He writeth up the people, that this man was born there."

"Therefore, beloved brethren, be ye steadfast, unmovable, always abounding in the work of the Lord, forasmuch as ye know that your labour is not in vain in the Lord."

Signed on behalf and by order of the Conference,

JOHN H. JAMES, Secretary.

ADDRESS OF THE CONFERENCE

OF THE

WESLEYAN-METHODIST CHURCH IN CANADA, 1870,

IN CONNEXION WITH THE BRITISH CONFERENCE,

TO THE

CONFERENCE IN ENGLAND, 1870.

Reverend Fathers and Brethren,

Your parental and suggestive Address has afforded us peculiar satisfaction. We rejoice to learn your undisturbed peace and unity throughout your entire Connexion, and your advancement and prosperity in every department of your great home and foreign work; and we hope to turn to practical purposes your edifying and affectionate counsels.

In the exercise of the privilege which you granted us last year, we elected the Rev. William Morley Punshon, A.M., our President; and in the exercise of the same privilege we have at this session re-elected him to the same office. His continued residence amongst us has secured our increased esteem and affection; while his great pulpit, platform, and administrative talents, his extensive travels and labours, his powerful discourses and appeals, together with his affectionate counsels and generous contributions, have been largely instrumental in advancing the various branches of our work, and have delighted and edified vast congregations throughout our country. We need hardly add how earnestly we and our friends, and many others throughout Canada, desire the continuance amongst us of Mr. Punshon's ministrations and counsels. In accordance with the wish of the Conference, Mr.

Punshon has appointed as Co-Delegate, our esteemed brother, well known to you, the Rev. Dr. Evans. We respectfully request of you the privilege of electing our President for the next year.

The proceedings of our present session have been characterized by harmony and brotherly love, not exceeded, if equalled, during our whole history as a Body. We have exchanged fraternal greetings with several kindred Protestant denominations, who hold their annual Conferences, General Assemblies, and Associations, in this city at the same time with ours. We have also been favoured with the presence of an honoured member of your own Body, the Rev. Gervase Smith, A.M., who, though he appeared in no representative capacity, and has not felt himself authorized to make any communication on your part, being simply on a tour of health and friendship, has given us, and many hundreds of our people, much pleasure and edification by his discourses and addresses. We have taken the liberty to appoint him as our Representative at your next Conference, to inform you in detail what we have stated in general terms,—that not the slightest discord interrupts the peace and harmony of our Societies; and that the Divine blessing of success and prosperity has crowned our labours in every branch of our Connexional work.

With you, reverend Fathers and Brethren, we renew our pledge and our prayers for faithful, fervent, and unreserved devotion to the great end of our existence as a people,—the spread of Scriptural holiness over the world.

Signed by order and on behalf of the Conference of the Wesleyan-Methodist Church in Canada, assembled at Toronto, on the 10*th day of June*, 1870,

A. SUTHERLAND, Secretary.

OF THE

BRITISH CONFERENCE OF 1870

TO THE

ADDRESS OF THE WESLEYAN-METHODIST CONFERENCE IN CANADA, 1870.

Reverend and dear Brethren,

Receive our fraternal greetings in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. Your Address was most welcome. Amid thunder of battle between two powerful nations on the neighbouring Continent of Europe, your kindly message comes like "good news from a far country," to assure us of the spiritual presence of our Master upon the earth, and of His approaching empire of peace among men. "Hallelujah! for the Lord God omnipotent reigneth."

We rejoice in your prosperity. The sympathies of our kindred are strengthened by the influences of our common religion. Whilst cherishing a catholic brotherliness for all "who love the Lord Jesus Christ in sincerity," we yet feel closest affinity with those who, with ourselves, inherit the traditions, and are bound in the ecclesiastical associations, of Methodism.

Hostile invasion has threatened the frontiers of your consolidated Dominion; the pretensions of an impotent infallibility have been put forth among you; Ritualistic and Rationalistic influences, in many forms, hang around you as around ourselves; but none of these things, we rejoice to know, move you from the great object of your ministry. "Your heart" is still "as our heart," and we again join you in united, solemn purpose and unabated zeal to accomplish the work for God with which we are entrusted.

Our esteemed Brother, the Rev. Gervase Smith, A.M., whom your late Conference appointed as its Representative to this Conference, has gladdened us with tidings of your growing numbers and influence, the increasing intelligence of your people, and your bold efforts to leaven the whole region from the Atlantic to the Pacific with Christianity. We trust that from its infancy your vast Dominion may, through the Providence of God, and by the instrumentality of Methodism, among other agencies, receive so true a training as to make you, in the magnificent future which awaits you, a land which shall be as "the glory of all lands," and a "joy of the whole earth."

For your Co-Delegate, the Rev. Dr. Evans, with whose missionary zeal and labours we are familiar, we entertain the greatest respect.

The proposed alterations in your manual of doctrine and discipline have been submitted for our consideration. We find that they are chiefly verbal, and relate to details of administration. They have our cordial concurrence.

Our present session has been characterised by similar features to those which distinguished your late Conference. With some diversity of opinion on many points, we cherish with undiminished fervour mutual brotherly affection, and a common zeal for the work of God. Our material prosperity increases on every side. Chapels and school-houses in larger numbers than ever bear evidence to the liberality of our people. Our Foreign Missions annually become more extensive, and our Home Missions awaken wider sympathy. Our Theological Institutions secure enlarged support; and our entire ecclesiastical machinery becomes increasingly complete. God accords also to the diligent labour of His servants the rich reward of converted souls. Our returns show a net increase of 2,925 members in Society, with 20,433 on trial for membership. Our Sunday schools contain more than 600,000 scholars, with 105,000 teachers. Never have we held so influential a position in our land: our responsibility, therefore, never was so great as it is to-day. We tremble as we remember the issues dependent on our fidelity: our personal talents, our wealth, our ecclesiastical organization, and all the other gifts of God's bounty which we possess, we desire afresh to lay upon His altar, and humbly to dedicate them with solemn vows to His glory. Never have we felt more the need of His Spirit. The bones are gathered and assorted in the valley, the skeletons are covered with sinews and flesh; not only the form of life, but also, thank God, some of its power is with us; but as the fight thickens, and the foes of Christ and His cause multiply, we are conscious that nothing but an intenser Divine energy can give us the victory. Therefore, in faith taking firmer hold of the Mediator, we cry aloud for power from on high.

With all confidence we leave to your next Conference the election of its President, who, according to custom, will appoint his Co-Delegate; and with the renewed assurance of our fraternal affection, we commend you to God and the Word of His grace.

Signed on behalf and by order of the Conference,

JOHN H. JAMES, Secretary.

ADDRESS OF THE CONFERENCE

OF THE

METHODIST CHURCH IN FRANCE, 1870,

IN CONNEXION WITH THE BRITISH CONFERENCE,

TO THE

CONFERENCE IN ENGLAND, 1870.

(TRANSLATION.)

DEAR AND HONOURED FATHERS AND BRETHREN,

ON the occasion of our Annual Address, it would have afforded us the greatest joy, had it been in our power to communicate to you news of an extraordinary and cheering nature, and no longer to utter words of complaint, but at last to raise our voice in thanksgiving and triumph. How delightful it were to speak of pastors largely baptised with the Holy Ghost and with fire, of Churches quickened and sanctified, of multitudes of souls converted to Christ!

But, alas! such is not our privilege. We have not witnessed any general movement in our Churches. Only two of our Circuits have been favoured with revivals; in the other parts of our Connexion we have to complain of a state of stagnation. We aimed at rapid extension, and we have remained almost stationary. Still we can report some small progress. We have now reached the number of two thousand and forty-nine members, being an increase of sixty-one, with one hundred and sixty-seven on trial. There have been also larger additions to our congregations, than to the number of our members. Three new Chapels have been opened, and two others are in course of erection. These five Chapels will be placed in fair pecuniary circumstances. They have not been built free of debt, but the respective churches have undertaken to meet the interest without aid from our general funds.

Our pastoral body has been reinforced this year by the full admission to the ministry of two young brethren, one of whom was ordained at Lausanne, before a large and deeply-interested congregation; the second will soon be set apart to the sacred office in his own church at St. Pierre-lès-Calais. We have also received as probationers two brethren who were already employed in the work.

There is no improvement in our financial position. At the close of the current year we shall have a debt of £1,720. You will readily understand that this unnatural and critical position has caused us deep anxiety. We have resolved, at whatever sacrifice, not to exceed our income for the next year. In order to accomplish this important purpose, we have not been willing to retreat from any of our fields of labour, or dismiss any of our workmen. We have preferred to retrench from the already limited allowances of the Ministers, and to reduce the grants to different departments of our work. We are also anxious to liquidate our debt as soon as possible, lest such a heavy burden should eventually prove a serious impediment to our prosperity. We have therefore resolved that a new appeal shall be made to our churches in France, and to our friends abroad. It has also been suggested to us, that to free ourselves from our financial embarrassments it would be wise to form a plan to pay off our chapel-debts. If successful, this would allow us to apply to the support of the ministry the sums now paid for the interest on those debts. We hope that our English brethren will help us to carry out this excellent project. Our churches have already commenced this work, having this year subscribed or collected £1,320 towards our Chapel-funds. Great as are our pecuniary liabilities, we have not lost the hope of seeing them removed. We trust in Him who hath said, "The gold and the silver are Mine."

We are thankful that we have this year no death to record. However, we cannot but refer with emotion to the departure of a brother who, although connected with your Conference at the time of his death, had been our fellow-labourer for more than twenty years. The Rev. William J. Handcock had won the love and respect, we had almost said the veneration, of his colleagues and of our churches.

Although not satisfied, but rather humbled, at the results of past labour, we still entertain hope for the future. After a long and toilsome seedtime, the abundant and joyful harvest will come; after darkness the light will arise. We trust that we are at the commencement of a new and better era which our present Conference will inaugurate. For the first time since the formation of our Church, our Annual Assembly has been general. It was composed of all the Ministers engaged in our work. After long and mature reflection, we have judged that the time has come to introduce some modifications in our system. In the first place, the greater number of the brethren were convinced that for so small a body, the number of our annual meetings involved too great a sacrifice, both of time and money. We have therefore resolved, by a majority of two-thirds, that we should in future meet only once in two years; and we have provided for replacing the omitted Conference. In the second place, we have endeavoured more extensively to associate our lay-brethren with us in the administration of church affairs, especially by increasing their power in the District-Meetings. Further, we have resolved that the next District-Meetings shall thoroughly examine the subject of lay-delegation to the Conference. Our lay-brethren claim this privilege, and, in order to meet their views, we think it possible to devise a plan, favourable, on the whole, to the extension of our work. The details of this plan will be duly submitted to you.

It is not, however, upon any proposed improvements in our organization that we rely to attain the great end of our ministry, but rather on the increase of faith, of zeal, and of love amongst us; we have prayed, and we still earnestly ask, for the powerful influences of the Holy Spirit. May the gracious answer be speedily granted!

Honoured Fathers and Brethren, we continue to claim your help and your prayers. Our esteemed

President, whom we sent to your last Conference, has spoken to us in the strongest terms of the kind reception you gave him, and of the warm sympathy you felt with our work. We are thankful that, although our slow progress might have wearied your patience, you are still disposed to bear with us; we feel certain that you will not cast us off. We are entering upon an eventful period; and soon, we hope, you will reap the fruits of your generosity towards France. Our country seems to be awakening to a new life. For eighteen years, worldly objects, luxury, and riches, have been almost the sole aim of our fellow-countrymen; but now they yearn for a nobler and better portion, they seek for a higher satisfaction. Is not this a favourable time to repeat to these misguided souls our Saviour's merciful invitation: "If any man thirst, let him come unto Me, and drink?"

On the other hand, the Church of Rome, blind to her own interests, seeks to promulgate dogmas against which many honest Roman-Catholics protest. Emulating the worst days of the Roman empire, that fallen Church attempts the deification of man. We think the result of this gigantic folly will be to detach from the Roman-Catholic faith a great number of sincere souls, and bring them to the pure light of the Gospel. Over many towns floats already the flag of revolt against the Priesthood; but too often this enmity against Rome unfortunately takes the shape of hostile feelings toward Christianity itself. This lamentable confusion, however, will cease when the teaching of the truth has dispelled the dark clouds of ignorance which now cover the people. Then the Gospel in all its beauty and grace will dawn on those who have too long been instructed to despise it.

Amidst circumstances of so solemn a significance you will understand how much we need support, in order to enable us to enter the many doors of usefulness now opening to us. No, despite all our past failings and weaknesses, you will not forsake us, God will not forsake us, and we will not despair of ourselves!

Sustained by this firm confidence, we return to our work resolved to devote ourselves anew to God and to His cause, determined to struggle as if our very life were at stake. We will put God to the proof, and we do not doubt that, according to His promise: He will "open the windows of heaven, and pour us out a blessing that there shall not be room enough to receive it."

We respectfully request you to sanction the plans we propose to adopt for the more efficient working of old Methodism in France and Switzerland, and also to confirm the nomination of the Rev. James Hocart, sen., as President of our next Conference. We have appointed this respected brother as our Delegate to your Conference at Burslem.

May God be with you in all your deliberations during the Conference!

Signed on behalf and by order of the Conference,

OF THE

BRITISH CONFERENCE OF 1870

TO THE

ADDRESS OF THE FRENCH CONFERENCE, 1870.

Reverend and dear Brethren,

We have received, with unabated affection, your Address by the hands of your Representative, our beloved brother Hocart, and have listened with deep interest to the report of your labours, in which, during the whole year, you have had our warm sympathy. We have closely watched those labours while they were in progress; and, so far as we could enter into your troubles and successes, have shared both your sorrow and your joy.

We cannot help feeling that you address us in a certain tone of sadness, lamenting the want of a greater and more marked progress in your work. We do, indeed, most fervently desire to hear of your enlargement and advance, and to know that, at last, a plenteous harvest has followed your many years of tearful sowing.

But suffer us, dear brethren, to speak words of comfort and encouragement. We can never forget—and, doubtless, the recollection often inspirits you—that the ground on which, for Christ's sake, you spend your self-denying toil, has witnessed aforetime the grandest triumphs of the Gospel, has been made illustrious by the pure Christianity of multitudes, and rendered sacred by their blood. Yours is not only the heritage of their sufferings, but also of their heroic labours and their prayers. And not to you alone, who still bear the burden of the work, are these memories precious; they are had in everlasting remembrance before God; and He, in His own good time, will command that the soil, made so rich with the abundant seed of the kingdom, shall yield its glorious increase, and become "as the garden of the Lord."

And if, at first, we find ourselves sharing your almost despondent feelings, we are greatly strengthened in our faith and hope on your behalf, by your manifest humiliation before God, and your avowed purpose to seek for your own selves a richer "fulness of the blessing of the Gospel of Christ." From such an abasement of yourselves God will, according to His word, lift you up into a more cheerful courage, and make you to stand in the vigour of His own strength; while, conscious of the mighty working of the Holy Ghost in your own sanctified hearts, you will go forth in His service, "strong in the Lord, and in the power of His might."

We know something of the difficulties which oppose the progress of earnest, spiritual religion in France, where you are not only withstood by the open hostility of superstition, but more seriously hindered by the deadly apathy caused by an infidel materialism. Together with you, we cannot but regard recent events at Rome as full of portent, seeming to betoken that the great western apostasy is, by an act of defiant presumption, hurrying itself to a supreme crisis. We need have no misgivings as to the final issue; and, in the mean time, we rejoice to hear from you of such clear evidences of the weakening of the Papal power in your own land. Over that land there now hangs the dreadful darkness of war; and although the scenes of your Gospel mission may not become the actual theatre of battle, yet no portion of the people, however secluded their dwelling, can escape taking some part in the great strife. During such a season, we know that your work will often be carried on at a disadvantage. And, whilst we constantly and earnestly pray that this terrible quarrel of nations may be healed without further bloodshed, we do not forget to ask on your behalf, dear brethren, that your hands may be strengthened to do well and faithfully that work of the Lord which, in the end, shall still all strife, and "make wars to cease unto the end of the earth."

We await, with solicitous interest, the result of your counsels for the more efficient working of our system in the peculiar circumstances in which you have to carry it on: and you may confidently reckon upon our ready concurrence in all projects of wise economy and administration, which shall, in financial affairs, provide for the relief of present embarrassments without endangering the resources of the future, and, in ecclesiastical arrangements, shall secure the most effective use of all your available agency, in harmony with our fundamental principles.

May the God of all wisdom and grace be with you in all things, and His blessing so largely abide upon you as to fill you with glad confidence and hope in seeing "the pleasure of the Lord prosper in your hands."

Signed on behalf and by order of the Conference,

JOHN H. JAMES, Secretary.

ADDRESS OF THE CONFERENCE

OF THE

AUSTRALASIAN WESLEYAN-METHODIST CHURCH, 1870,

TO THE

BRITISH CONFERENCE OF 1870.

Reverend and dear Fathers and Brethren,

Assembled, in the city of Adelaide, in our sixteenth Annual Conference, it is a pleasing part of our duty to convey to you our affectionate greetings, and to inform you of our work and success. We have you in loving remembrance. Many of us have listened to the Word of Life from the lips of honoured Ministers who are with you now; and some of us rejoice to acknowledge ourselves your children in the Lord. The ties by which we are bound to you are endearing and indissoluble, and we desire to emulate your excellencies, and to walk in your steps.

On reviewing our history, we find much to occasion thanksgiving and joy. Thirteen years have elapsed since our Conference first met in this city. Then we had one hundred and twenty Ministers and Preachers on Trial; now, we have two hundred and thirty-seven. Then, our Members were twenty-one thousand two hundred and forty-seven; now, we have fifty-five thousand five hundred and fifty-six. Then, our Local Preachers numbered one thousand two hundred and twenty; now, there are two thousand eight hundred. Then, there were nineteen thousand nine hundred and sixty-six Sabbath-scholars; now, there are one hundred and eighteen thousand two hundred and thirty-three.

Then, we had one hundred and twenty-three thousand nine hundred and sixteen Hearers; now, there are two hundred and seventy thousand. Our increase in Members this year makes a total of three thousand three hundred and eighty-four, with ten thousand and ninety-one on Trial. "Thanks be unto God, which always causeth us to triumph in Christ, and maketh manifest the savour of His knowledge by us in every place."

We acknowledge with gratitude your kindness in sending us this year two young men who have been trained in your Theological Institution. We have every reason to hope that they will prove themselves able and faithful Ministers of our Australasian Church. We are doing our utmost to raise up among ourselves a succession of faithful labourers for the harvest of the Lord, in this distant field. We have this year received sixteen young men as Probationers for our Ministry. But the supply from the colonies does not overtake the necessities of our work. There are spheres, in all our colonies, which could be occupied at once, had we a large supply of efficient young men. We are deeply impressed with the importance of giving our Candidates a thorough training for the work of the Ministry among us, and hope that we shall soon be able to establish an Institution for the accomplishment of this object. Meanwhile, we are placing as many of them as possible under the instruction and supervision of the Presidents of our several Colleges.

We are increasingly impressed with the adaptation of Wesleyan Methodism, in its doctrines and discipline, to the wants of these Australian lands; and we determine in all things to be faithful to the trust we have received from you. As a body of Ministers, we have no manner of sympathy with the Rationalistic and Ritualistic tendencies of what is called "modern thought." In our hearts we still "hold fast the form of sound words." In our ministry we give a prominent place to the cardinal doctrines of our Methodist theology; and in all our Church courts we still maintain the practices and principles held by the fathers of the Wesleyan-Methodist Church.

You will rejoice to hear that we still keep "the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace." Strifes and division are not known among us. Our Ministers and people dwell together in unity.

While, however, there is much in both the past and present to inspire our joy, the review of the year which has just closed awakens recollections of unusual sorrow. Two of our number fell last year by the hand of violence. The death of John Whiteley by the hand of the assassin, after thirty-eight years of devoted and successful labour, brought mourning into every home in New-Zealand: terrible was his death, but his memory is blessed. Our Brother Hill, who was murdered by a prisoner, while pursuing his duties as chaplain at the Pentridge Stockade, also held a prominent position in our Connexion. He was a man of uncommon gifts and extensive usefulness. He had travelled in several of our best Circuits, and had held important offices among us. The loss of these beloved Ministers has filled us with mourning, but we mourn not as those who "have no hope." Our brethren are not dead, they live. Succeeding to their toil, we would catch their mantles; not being "slothful, but followers of them who, through faith and patience, inherit the promises."

Our Missions in Polynesia have been to us an occasion of considerable anxiety. The successes of these Missions are still marvellous. Not a heathen remains in the Friendly Islands. Seven thousand nine hundred and twenty of the islanders of that group are members of our Society. The sum of £5,600 has been subscribed this year to our Missionary Society by the Friendly Islanders alone. Thus are they "enriched to all bountifulness, which causeth through us thanksgiving to God." In the Fiji Islands, twenty thousand three hundred and forty-eight persons are reported as members of our Church, with one thousand seven hundred and ninety-eight on Trial. But the progress of colonization has threatened new dangers to our infant Churches in Polynesia. Gladly would we take upon ourselves the entire responsibility of supporting our island Missions, but the work is great, and our strength is small. Many of our Circuits in the colonies possess a Missionary character, and demand ceaseless appeals to the liberality of our people. Besides which, the Lord is opening up to us new fields at home, and into these we must enter, if true to our ancient vocation of "spreading scriptural holiness throughout the land." While not unmindful of the claims of the Missionary Committee in England on the Australasian Churches, and while pledging ourselves to do our utmost, year by year, to augment our Missionary contributions, we feel that we cannot for some time to come undertake the sole responsibility of our Missions in the South Seas. During the past year, the Rev. S. Rabone, General Secretary of our Missions, and the Rev. James Watkin, have visited the islands as a Deputation. A highly satisfactory report of the Deputation has been laid before this Conference, and will be duly forwarded to the Missionary Committee in England. The brethren of the Deputation have received our warmest thanks for their labours, and we anticipate much benefit to the Mission cause from their visit.

We desire to express our thanks for your appointment, at our request, of the Reverend George Hurst, as our President for this year. Under his able direction the business of the Conference has been conducted very harmoniously, and with great dispatch. We now ask you to appoint the Rev. John Watsford to preside over our next Conference, to be held in Hobart Town, in January, 1871.

And now, honoured fathers and brethren, we beg to assure you of the interest we feel in the toils and triumph of your work in our fatherland. You have our warmest affections and our earnest prayers. May He, "whose we are, and whom we serve," pour upon you, and upon us, a larger supply of the Spirit of Life in Christ Jesus.

Signed on behalf and by order of the Conference,

BENJAMIN CHAPMAN, Secretary.

THE ANSWER

OF THE

BRITISH CONFERENCE OF 1870

TO THE

ADDRESS OF THE AUSTRALASIAN CONFERENCE, 1870.

Reverend and dear Brethren,

Your fraternal Address has been received with the greatest pleasure, and we lovingly reciprocate your sentiments of regard and affection, assuring you, in your own words of the previous year, that "oceans and mountains cannot obstruct the transmission and return of sympathy and love between us and you."

We gratefully rejoice in your spiritual and financial successes as evidenced by the statistics presented in your Address; as we also do in the declaration of your unabated attachment to Methodism, and your firm resolve to abide by what you know, from actual experience, to be so singularly adapted to your vast and increasing colony.

It is with high satisfaction that we receive the assurance of your intelligent repugnance to certain "tendencies of what is called 'modern thought.'" These "tendencies" are seen in Rationalistic beliefs and Ritualistic practices. We hold that no incense can be acceptable to God but that of prayer and praise, and that there are no adornments so beautiful as those of purity, meekness, and love.

We thank God that you still adhere to "the form of sound words;" to the vital doctrines, principles, and practices of our early Methodist fathers. Your allusion to our fathers recalls their instructive history; for, through the grace of the Holy Spirit, they were so filled with the love of Christ, that they were inflamed with a quenchless z al, upborne by a lofty faith, and in times of persecution and suffering they breathed a spirit of the tenderest charity. O may He who is the Source of all goodness so baptize you and us with the Holy Ghost, that the love of Jesus may fill our hearts, and prompt us to entire consecration to Himself! May this sacred fire burn night and day upon the altar of our hearts, until night and day with us shall cease.

We hail with gratitude to Almighty God the announcement that He is raising up among you a number of young men for the ministry, for whom you are providing suitable instruction; and we trust that ere long you will have the means of establishing a Theological Institution.

The success of the Polynesian Mission is a source of unspeakable thankfulness; and the statement that "not one heathen remains in the Friendly Islands," records a precious fact in the annals of Missionary enterprise, and forms a glorious testimony to the power of the blessed Gospel.

The extending character of your work, while a source of joy, must necessarily involve much solicitude, as it will tax the liberality of its most generous friends. In committing to you the Polynesian Missions at the commencement of your course as a Conference, we felt that the charge of so prosperous and glorious a work was an honour and a responsibility, and we are grateful that you resolved to do your utmost to supply men and means for carrying it on with efficiency; and now, from accounts received since your Address was written, we are relieved and gladdened by the intelligence, that, besides the marvellous liberality of the Tongans, the various Circuits in Australasia as well as in Fiji have so increased their contributions as to raise your income to nearly £400 beyond the ordinary expenditure of last year.

With yourselves, we have long desired that your means should rise to a point equal to the support of your whole agency. From the beginning your efforts to reach it have been marked by persevering energy. Now that it is likely to be attained, we give God thanks on your behalf. If you now formally assume the responsibility of your Missions, you will have the strength and comfort of counting the whole field within your bounds as exclusively your own. We also shall be enabled to direct the funds hitherto voted to you to newer or more needy portions of the great harvest-field; but your pecuniary independence will not, we trust, in any respect interfere with our union and relationship. In all your successes we shall still rejoice, and you may be always assured of our sympathy in any hour of trial.

In cordial agreement with your request, we appoint the Rev. John Watsford to the Presidency of your next annual Conference; and we deem this nomination by you of one who was a most devoted and successful Missionary, as very opportune during the year that you are first enabled to meet all the requirements of the Missions under your care. We trust you will have a prosperous year under his Presidency, and we hope that while you maintain the existing Missions with full efficiency, you will also ere long be able to extend your operations to neglected regions which surround you. Methodism has always been prosperous as she has maintained the missionary spirit.

And now, dear Brethren, "we commend you to God, and to the word of His grace." May "our Lord Jesus Christ Himself, and God, even our Father, which hath loved us, and hath given us everlasting consolation, and good hope through grace, comfort your hearts, and stablish you in every good word and work!"

Signed on behalf and by order of the Conference,

JOHN FARRAR, President,
JOHN H. JAMES, Secretary.

ADDRESS OF THE CONFERENCE

OF THE

WESLEYAN-METHODIST CHURCH OF EASTERN-BRITISH AMERICA, 1870,

TO THE

BRITISH CONFERENCE OF 1870.

VERY DEAR FATHERS AND BRETHREN,

AFTER having exchanged brotherly greetings, we have commenced the business of our sixteenth Annual Conference in the town of Yarmouth, Nova-Scotia.

Your Answer to our Address of 1869, read as soon as possible after the opening of the Conference, was listened to with deep interest. Your kindly recognition of us, year by year, reminds us that though we have assumed a partially independent position, in accordance with your wish, we retain the unabated regard of the Parent Conference; and your counsels encourage us in those moments of depression from which few engaged in the work of the ministry are wholly free.

We learn with satisfaction that your labours have been attended with a good degree of success.

In many of the Circuits of our Conference special outpourings of the Spirit have been enjoyed, and numbers, converted to God, have offered themselves for membership in our Church; but the ceaseless work of death and the tide of emigration, still setting strongly westward, bearing away many whose absence we regret, to swell the ranks of the Methodist Episcopal Church in the neighbouring Republic, prevent us from reporting a large increase of members.

With searchings of heart, and prayer for Divine guidance, we prepare to go forth to our appointed spheres of labour, determined to be men of one work, preaching with earnestness the simple, saving truths of "repentance toward God, and faith toward our Lord Jesus Christ;" and, if need be, defending with our might "the truth as it is in Jesus" against those varying forms of error which are constantly being brought up from the burial-places of the past; as well as against that spirit of mere formalism which would rob our holy religion of its life and energy, and leave it, like the chiselled marble, beautiful, but cold and breathless.

Admonitions to do this earnestly have not been wanting. Since our last Conference, two of our aged Supernumerary brethren, George Miller, wont to give his hearers the beaten oil of the sanctuary, and John Bass Strong, the first Missionary sent out by your Committee to the large territory now occupied by the Canadian Conference, and a beautiful illustration of Christian old age, have gone "unto the Father." And William Wilson, another of your early Missionaries, in the fiftieth year of his itinerancy, while engaged in the labour of the earthly, has been suddenly called to the rest of the heavenly, Sabbath.

Matthew Richey, D.D., known to you and to the members of the Canadian Conference, as well as to ourselves, as one who has consecrated more than ordinary powers of mind to the service of God and of Methodism, has felt himself compelled, after severe affliction, to ask a Supernumerary relation for the present. We need not say with what deep regret we witness the retirement, even for a season, from the front ranks of our Conference, of one who has, in days calculated to try men's hearts, proved himself so true to the Church of his early choice. Henry Daniel and George Johnson, the one an Ex-President, the other Chairman of a District, have also felt it to be necessary, after a severe mental struggle, to ask a similar relation, and with the esteem and sympathy of their brethren, have retired from the active work. We pray that for many years God may spare to us the lives of these brethren, who have borne without fainting the "burden and heat of the day."

While the deaths of some of our brethren, and the retirement of others, admonish us to do what we do with our "might," we are encouraged by the fact that nine young men, who have passed honourably through the years of their probation, have been set apart to the full work of the ministry; and that fourteen others, of ability and promise, have presented themselves before our Examining Committee, and have been cordially received on trial for our ministry. Several of the latter have been placed at the disposal of the Stationing Committee; the others will be sent to our Theological Institutions at Sackville.

You will, we know, be glad to hear that Wesley College, and the academies at Mount Allison, under the management of a staff of Professors and Teachers, themselves trained in the Institution, and second to none in their educational ability and Christian fitness for the position, are doing a good work, and are taking a prominent place among the educational institutions of the Dominion.

The Conference, deeply impressed with the value of a carefully trained ministry, has requested Charles Stewart, D.D., to enter upon the duties of the office of the Theological Professor, vacated by the retirement of our esteemed brother, Charles De Wolfe, D.D.

The affairs of our Book-Room and Conference-Office, for years a source of great anxiety, present a more encouraging aspect; and it is hoped that under the prudent business tact of our Book-Steward, Humphrey Pickard, D.D., this important department of our work will rise above embarrassment, and answer its intended purpose of diffusing among the families of our people a healthy religious literature.

We are happy to inform you that our people are showing an increased interest in Home Missions, without in the mean time losing sight of the importance of the Foreign Mission work. For Foreign Missions we have raised fourteen hundred dollars more than were raised last year.

An important step, which we expect will meet with the hearty sympathy of our people, has been taken in the formation of a Conference Educational Fund. We have long felt the necessity of some regular source of income from which to supplement the limited resources of young men believing themselves called to the work of the ministry, and giving satisfactory evidence of the possession of gifts and grace required for our work. In this new fund we have merged that hitherto known as the "Educational Fund for Ministers' Children;" in the belief that the promised popularity of the new, will not only enable us to carry out the object contemplated by the old, scheme, but place us in a position effectively to aid young men seeking preparation for the great work of the Christian ministry.

We have requested the Rev. George Scott, D.D., to act as our Representative in your Conference during the year. The names of Henry Pope, son of one of your honoured Missionaries, who has been nominated for President of our next Conference, and Samuel W. Sprague also nominated for Co-Delegate, are referred to you for confirmation.

Under the able Presidency of the Rev. H. Pickard, D.D., we are proceeding as rapidly with our business as a due regard to the importance of the work entrusted to us will permit. Our discussions have been marked by true brotherly regard. The conclusions reached have been characterized by more than usual unanimity. The public services, attended by large and attentive congregations, have, by the presence of God the Spirit, been rendered more than usually interesting and profitable.

In conclusion, dear Fathers and Brethren, permit us to assure you that we are one with you in loyalty to our earthly Sovereign, and, by a nobler and more lasting bond of union, are one with you in "the kingdom and patience of our Lord Jesus Christ." We bespeak your continued sympathy, Christian counsel, and prayer on our behalf; and we in return will pray that henceforth and for ever there may rest upon you all those blessings which God in Christ imparts.

Signed by order and in behalf of the Conference of Eastern-British America, DUNCAN D. CURRIE, Secretary.

Yarmouth, Nova-Scotia, June 29th, 1870.

THE ANSWER

OF THE

BRITISH CONFERENCE OF 1870

TO THE

ADDRESS OF THE CONFERENCE OF THE WESLEYAN-METHODIST CHURCH IN EASTERN-BRITISH AMERICA, 1870.

Reverend and very dear Brethren,

Your affectionate greetings, in common with many similar messages of love from various lands, fill us with exceeding joy. "As cold waters to a thirsty soul, so is good news from a far country." We have been thus refreshed by the glad tidings that in many of your Circuits there have been special outpourings of the Spirit, and that numbers have been converted to God. We would encourage you, emulating the earnest zeal of our Fathers, ever to aim at, and to expect, such results. To save a realm from ruin, might be the object of a worthy ambition, but every conceivable deed of secular beneficence sinks into nothing in comparison with the rescue of souls. If, each moment of all the ages, from the beginning until now, new-made worlds had dropped in fresh beauty from the forming hand of God, one single soul were worth them all. We look with affection towards the young ministers who are entering your ranks, and cherish the hope that they will be winners of souls. We also regard with undiminished esteem and deep sympathy, the excellent brethren now compelled by age or infirmity to abate the fulness with which for so long time they have laboured. We further tenderly remember those whose course your obituaries record as now fulfilled,—George Miller, John Bass Strong, and William Wilson, venerable men, whose great honour it was to assist in laying the foundations of your numerous and flourishing churches. The mention of them has awakened among us many grateful recollections of their eminent worth and wide success. We too—as in other years—have lost from our number warm-hearted evangelists, painstaking Pastors, and sage advisers. Among the fathers thus called unto God, we mention Isaac Keeling, an Ex-President, a very diligent, observant, and unusually accurate man, whose sententious wisdom will long be missed from our assemblies; and Peter M'Owan, a thorough divine, a mighty preacher, a careful shepherd of the flock, a trusted counsellor, and a very successful minister. The memorial of these worthies, yours and ours, will never perish. Men who win empires write their names in dust; but men who win souls carve theirs upon the pillars of eternity.

The tide of emigration, bearing continually westward so much of the fruit of your labour, must not dismay you. Your spiritual children, though, like the "strangers" to whom Peter wrote, "scattered" and sundered, are, as they were, "elect according to the foreknowledge of God the Father, through sanctification of the Spirit, unto obedience and sprinkling of the blood of Jesus Christ." The precious results of your toil, though removed, will not be lost; gone from you, but not from Christ, they are the seed of which harvests shall plentifully come in further fields.

Unto us, as unto you, God hath given increase; but we, as you, have to deplore the smallness of its amount. Limiting causes may be truly alleged; but, after allowing fair weight to them all, we refuse to be satisfied. Little success stands in disappointing contrast with the promises of God and the glory of our theme. What a theme! Salvation, full as the ocean, free as the air, lasting as eternity. Surely, there is fault in us. That theme, worthily proclaimed, would move men more! Had we Paul's fastings, prayers, tears, toil, and faith, the world would fall before us. Your avowal, in the face of the many and subtle errors which abound, of renewed determination to preach saving truth more earnestly, is very pleasant to us. Experience proves that evangelists, by prepossessing the heart, do far more than polemics to keep the popular mind from harm. Simple "witnessing" baffles disseminators of false doctrine more than controversy can do. Discussion often gives heresy the advantage of an advertisement. There are occasions in which controversy becomes a necessity, but, like war, it should only be entered upon when nothing else will serve. Fires of contention are more likely to consume meekness than to amend mistakes. He who holdeth a fortress, upon all sides impregnable, —if but watchful of his own walls,—needs little trouble himself which way the foe will come. Profounder meditation of God's glorious truth, and less distraction of the mind about the devil's lies, will be best for the heart, and best for the times. Truth is immutable; error is ever changing and temporary. Steadiness and strength come of rest on the immutable. Error may overhang for awhile, as a cloud does a rock; but the rock will be there when the cloud is gone. "The word of the Lord abideth for ever."

"Be ye clean, that bear the vessels of the Lord." "If any man will do His will, he shall know of the doctrine." Conformity to the Divine character helps insight into the Divine word. The soul dwelling near to God is as a man standing under the direct rays of the sun; shadow is gone; all above and around is light. The beams that fall in that noontime of the heart smite not but heal.

The success of your educational efforts has been remarkable. Knowing that cultured youth and well furnished ministers are the hope of a nation, and the strength of a Church, we thankfully observe your academies and colleges to be taking a front rank among those of your country. There is vitality where institutions have force enough to perpetuate themselves; this yours already do. The sign is visible in your goodly band of tutors and professors. Their fitness proves the assiduity and excellence of your earlier teaching labours; their learning and training having been obtained in the classes of your own colleges.

We are glad to hear of the encouraging aspect of your Book Affairs. The Book-Room is an essential part of the early Methodist plan. Our Founder made extensive use of the press. We owe to John Wesley's pen scarcely less than to his preaching. He carefully set himself to organize means for the diffusion of godly literature through the land. In this matter supply creates demand. Books make readers. People assimilate the mental food they live upon: the Church therefore cannot afford to be indifferent as to what that food shall be. We, as our fathers did, must write books, print books, distribute books, and push the sale of books; and that, not for profit, but for the Church's sake and for the Lord's.

We exceedingly rejoice to see the prudent maturing of your organizations, and the wise development of your financial arrangements. We mark with happiness your increasing vigour. Vitality is more than forms. Laws—even ours—without life, were vain things; but laws guiding life are important. Methodism, conservative, yet not rigid, will easily adapt itself to every speciality of your country. The history of our affiliated Conferences and allied Churches has shown that our system, like the bark of a tree, can expand without rending, and even shelter the broadening life that dwells within.

The warmth of your loyalty to the British throne, and the brotherhood you cherish for the British people, delight us; but, above all, we are gladdened by your enlarged Missionary spirit and growing zeal for the glory, and successful service in the cause, of our common Lord.

We have much pleasure, in accordance with your request, in appointing the Rev. Henry Pope as your President, and the Rev. Samuel W. Sprague as Co-Delegate for the next year.

And now "the Lord make you to increase and abound in love one toward another, and toward all men, even as we do toward you: to the end He may stablish your hearts unblamable in holiness before God, even our Father, at the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ with all His saints!"

Signed on behalf and by order of the Conference,

ADDRESS OF THE GENERAL CONFERENCE

OF THE

METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH IN THE UNITED STATES, 1868,

TO THE

BRITISH CONFERENCE, 1870.

Reverend and Dear Fathers and Brethren,

Your fraternal Address, dated Birmingham, August 11th, 1865, has been received by us with great pleasure. We are gratified to learn from your letter, and through your honoured Representative, the Rev. William Morley Punshon, A.M., that, under the blessing of Almighty God, peace and prosperity still abound to you in all your departments of Christian labour at home and abroad; that in your Missionary, church-building, and educational enterprises you are steadily advancing. And, above all, we glorify God in you because you have, as a Church, held fast "the faith once delivered to the saints," and that you are praying for, and by faith expecting, a "deeper and Diviner baptism of the Holy Ghost," that you may the more efficiently aid in spreading Scriptural holiness over all lands.

Your cordial and Christian welcome of one of our beloved Superintendents, the Rev. Bishop Janes, D.D., "for his sake and our own," commands our grateful acknowledgments, and it will excite us to more earnest prayer, and to renewed exertions to cultivate and increase the strength of those bonds which unite us as co-ordinate branches of the Church of God, until, one in the unity of the faith and "the truth as it is in Jesus," we shall join with the redeemed of every land in songs of praise and thanksgiving at the universal triumph of Christianity.

With regard to our own Church, we are enabled, through the blessing of God, to report a continued increase in territory, Conferences, members, contributions, and spiritual power. The success of the general government in overthrowing a rebellion inaugurated to perpetuate American slavery, and, in that success, for ever abolishing slavery wherever the authority of the United States prevails, opened the long-closed South to our Church. There are now included within that territory nine Annual Conferences, three hundred and seventy-three Travelling Preachers, and ninety thousand and seventy-one Members. If we add the enlargement of our work in Kentucky, Missouri, and Arkansas, our increase, on what was slave territory prior to the rebellion, is five hundred and fifty Travelling Preachers, and one hundred and seventeen thousand two hundred and ninety-six Members. Two Conferences of coloured Ministers have been organized since our last Session, that now report one hundred and one Ministers, and twenty-six thousand four hundred and eighty-seven Members. Delegates from these two Conferences have been received into our General Conference, with all the rights and privileges of Delegates of other Annual Conferences. In fact, so far has the spirit of caste been driven from our beloved Zion, that colour is no embarrassment to admission into any of our Conferences. For this we most humbly and devoutly thank God. The overthrow of slavery placed the freedmen of the South within the reach of education. Our Church has organized a Freedmen's Aid Society, and through it we are endeavouring to fulfil our part of the duty of educating them. At present we have in the field seventy-two Teachers, giving instruction to about seven thousand pupils. We trust that we shall not be unfaithful in the opportunity thus offered of paying at least the interest due these freedmen for the unpaid labour of themselves and their ancestors,—doubly due them, for they are our brethren, for whom Christ died. We are pleased to tell you, that God is giving success to our efforts. The fruit of our toil appears ere the blossom dies. Some, who were slaves when the rebellion commenced, are now honoured Ministers; others are in our Biblical Institute, preparing for the ministry; and thousands more are in our Church, happy in God, industrious and frugal in their habits, rapidly being fully qualified to perform the duties of American citizenship, which has been so suddenly and strangely conferred upon them.

During the quadrennium just closed, our numbers have increased from 923,394 to 1,146,081, an increase of 222,687. During the same period, the number of our churches has risen from 9,430 to 11,121, and their value has swelled from 20,830,554 dollars to 35,885,439 dollars. Our publishing interests were never in a more flourishing condition.

The results of the Centenary year were most gratifying. It had been anticipated that 2,000,000 dollars would be given as a thankoffering to God for the success of the Methodist Episcopal Church in the United States during its first century; but the spirit of liberality which our Saviour put into the hearts of our people proved that our anticipations were born of our fears rather than our faith; for the thankofferings amount to the sum of 8,397,662 dollars.

The endowments of our Educational Institutions have been largely augmented by these Centenary funds, and, consequently, our facilities for diffusing a sanctified education among the people have been greatly enhanced. Much, also, has been done for our Theological Schools. To those already existing at the time of our last letter, the Drew Theological Seminary, munificently endowed by Daniel Drew, Esq., has been added, and placed under the control of the General Conference.

The contributions of the Centenary year to the Centenary Educational Fund, and to the Sunday-school Children's Fund, have rendered it necessary to create the "Board of Education of the Methodist Episcopal Church," whose duty it is to "receive and securely invest the principal of the Centenary Fund, and under specific limitations" to "appropriate the interest only" to aid young men preparing for the foreign Missionary work or for the Ministry at home; to aid our Theological Schools, Colleges, and Academies; and also to appropriate, under proper restrictions, the interest of the Sunday-school Children's Fund, to assist meritorious Sunday-school scholars in obtaining a more advanced education. This is a new feature in our system of education, and one which we think will ultimately vastly augment the power of the Church for good.

Our Missionary work at home and abroad is prospering, and our hearts are stimulated to renewed zeal, enlarged contributions, and mightier faith for the evangelization of the world.

Many questions of much importance—not concerning doctrines, however; for these no one among us desires to have altered—have agitated, and some are still agitating, the ministry and laity of our Church. Thus far, all changes have been accomplished, not only without detriment, but to the temporal and spiritual advantage of the Church. And as both those who seek and those who oppose other changes and modifications of our discipline and economy are equally loyal to the Church and devoted to God, we feel confident that the same "glorious Lord," who has hitherto guided and protected us, will in His infinite wisdom and mercy, still guide us in all the changes we may make, and plant our "Jerusalem, a quiet habitation, a tabernacle that shall not be taken down," in "a place of broad rivers and streams;" for "the Lord is our Judge, the Lord is our Lawgiver, the Lord is our King: He will save us."

Since the visit of your former Representative, the Rev. William Lockwood Thornton, M.A., whose name is as precious ointment poured forth, the Rev. L. L. Hamline, D.D., one of our Bishops, who, on account of declining health, resigned the office, has passed to his reward on high, leaving as a legacy to the Church the memory of a polished and successful Minister of the Lord Jesus Christ and the savour of a holy life and triumphant death.

Your honoured Representative, the Rev. William Morley Punshon, M.A., was received by us as "a brother beloved." He proved himself every way worthy the high position and extended and increasing fame and influence he enjoys. His manly Christian conduct, his earnest, eloquent, spiritual addresses and sermons, and his fine social qualities and devotional spirit, won for him a place in our affections not inferior to that secured by any of his honoured and sainted predecessors. The influence of his sermons and addresses cannot be limited to those before whom they were delivered; but it will be felt throughout our whole Connexion wherever they may be read, or spoken of by us who heard them. We therefore glorify God in him on our behalf and yours; for we feel that all of His Ministers, "whether Paul, or Apollos, or Cephas," are ours and yours, and we all are "Christ's; and Christ is God's."

And now, beloved brethren, trusting that the fraternal and sympathetic relations existing between us may continue, and find expression in letter and through Representatives, we wish you abounding success in every good word and work; and may God "supply all your need, according to His riches in glory, by Christ Jesus," unto whom, with the Son and the Holy Ghost, be equal and undivided honour for ever and ever! Amen.

Signed on behalf and by order of the General Conference,

EDMUND S. JANES, President,
WILLIAM L. HARRIS, Secretary.

APPENDIX I.

MEETING OF THE MISSIONARY COMMITTEE OF REVIEW,

HELD IN BURSLEM, JULY 25TH, 1870.

The Rev. Frederick J. Jobson, D.D., President of the Conference, in the Chair.

I. Moved by James S. Budgett, Esq.; seconded by the Rev. William Arthur, M.A.; supported by Isaac James, Esq.:

That the progress of the Wesleyan-Methodist Missions during the past year has been such as to call for the most fervent gratitude toward the Great Head of the Church, who has poured out His Spirit, and prospered the labours of His servants in different countries to the conversion of souls and the increase of the Churches.

II. Moved by Sir Francis Lycett; seconded by the Rev. Josiah Cox; supported by William Cooper, Esq.:

That, while the Society has experienced reverses during the year, as in Hayti, its successes in Italy, and in South Africa, the gradual and hopeful improvement in the West Indies, the increasing supply of native teachers and evangelists, and the rapid extension of the work of several of the affiliated Conferences, afford special encouragement to renewed and increased efforts on its behalf.

III. Moved by Thomas Oliver, Esq.; seconded by the Rev. Arminius Burgess; supported by Stephen Edge, Esq.:

That the increase in the regular Home Receipts of the Society, though gratifying, is less than might be anticipated from the extension of our home Churches of late years; and that increased attention to the re-organization and to the more systematic working of the Circuit and Branch Associations is strongly recommended as the most likely means of securing that increase in the Society's funds which is so urgently needed.

IV. Moved by the Rev. Charles Prest; seconded by the Rev. William Shaw (A); supported by Joseph Collingham, Esq.:

That the Committee recommends that the thanks of the Conference be presented to James Heald, Esq., and the Rev. Dr. Jobson, the General Treasurers, and to the General Secretaries of the Society, for their services during the past year.

APPENDIX II.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE COMMITTEE OF THE NEW-KINGSWOOD AND WOODHOUSE-GROVE SCHOOLS AND EDUCATION FUND, HELD IN BURSLEM, JULY 23D, 1870.

PRESENT, the Rev. Dr. Jobson, President of the Conference, in the Chair; the Rev. John Farrar, the Secretary of the Conference; the Rev. Benjamin B. Waddy, the Treasurer of the Fund; the Rev. John Harvard, the Secretary of the Fund, and other members of the Committee.

The Reports of the Local Committees and Examiners were read. It was reported that the health of the boys had been unusually good, and the moral and religious tone of both Schools highly encouraging. The scholastic efficiency of the Schools had been tested in the usual manner, and by the Middle Class Examinations, at which fourteen pupils passed with credit from New-Kingswood, and eight from Woodhouse-Grove. Five of the pupils have since passed the June Matriculation of the London University,—two from New-Kingswood, and three from Woodhouse-Grove,—and all in honours. From the Treasurer's cash account it appeared that there was a small increase of income. The claims upon the Fund are less than last year, and the deficiency to be provided for by the Children's Fund is also less by more than £700.

It was unanimously resolved to recommend that the thanks of the Conference be presented:—

1. To the Rev. Benjamin B. Waddy and John Meek, Esq., the General Treasurers; the Rev. Frederick Payne and the Rev. John Harvard, the General Secretaries; and to the Local Treasurers, Secretaries, and Committees; for their diligent and efficient discharge of the duties of their respective offices during the year.

2. To the Rev. William H. Sargent and the Rev. Henry H. Chettle, the Governors of the Schools, and to Mrs. Sargent and Mrs. Chettle, for their kind attention to the comfort of the children under their care during the year.

3. To the Rev. William F. Moulton, M.A., for the able manner in which he has discharged the duties of Classical and Mathematical Examiner at both New-Kingswood and Woodhouse-Grove Schools; and to the gentlemen who have kindly served the Institutions by examining the schools in other branches of learning.

The following Report of a Committee appointed by the Conference of 1869, (See "Minutes," p. 152,) "to inquire and report to the General Committee, at its meeting prior to the Conference of 1870, whether any, and what, steps can be taken to make better provision for the education of the daughters of our Ministers," was adopted by the General Committee :—

"It has long been felt by many persons to be desirable that educational advantages, more nearly equal to those now afforded to the sons, should be provided for the daughters, of our Ministers. A step has already been taken in equalizing the allowances paid for education at home in both cases.

"To provide school accommodation for girls, as full as that which now exists for boys, would involve an amount of difficulty and cost, which we cannot recommend the Conference at present to undertake. It would, however, in the judgment of the Committee, be well that an advance should be made in this direction by the establishment of a School for about thirty girls; for each of whom there should, as in the case of the Kingswood and Woodhouse-Grove Schools, be annually paid to the Treasurers, towards the current expense, the allowances of such children from the Schools' and Children's Fund; the balance of deficiency, after such contribution, to be borne by the Schools' Fund, the principle being fixed, that the working expenditure per head for the year shall not exceed the average of the aforesaid Schools already in existence for the three preceding years; and it being moreover determined that the whole deficiency of the establishment proposed in this report, for the first year, shall not exceed the sum of £500.

"An opportunity unexpectedly presents itself of making a beginning, such as is now recommended, under very favourable circumstances. The arrangement made last year to defer the time at which the first Educational Allowance shall be paid from eight to nine years of age, leaves the amount of one year's allowances (say £1,100) in the hands of the Treasurers. With this sum a house might be rented and furnished without any new subscription being instituted, and the experiment be made in a manner as little burdensome as can be imagined.

"Judging by the results which have already been reached in the establishment of an institution of this nature by private zeal and liberality, the Committee, with the greater confidence, recommends the Conference to sanction the commencement of such a school for girls as already described, under the care of a special Sub-Committee of the Schools' Committee; who shall be charged, also, to consider whether, and, if so, in what way, this provision may be carried further."

It was thereupon further resolved,

1. That the Committee having been informed by Messrs. William M'Arthur and John Chubb that the promoters of an institution for the education of preachers' daughters, lately established, and for some time carried on at Clapton, will gladly transfer it to the Connexion, furnished, and in working order; and a Resolution offering it to the acceptance of the Conference having been proposed and seconded by those gentlemen respectively, the Committee, in accepting the proposal, desires to express in the strongest terms its sense of the generosity which has prompted this proposition; and returns its sincere and hearty thanks to all the parties by whose effort and liberality this result has been brought about; and particularly to Mrs. Thornton and Miss Gibson, who have borne so large a share in the establishment of this valuable institution.

2. That it be recommended to the Conference that the Clapton School, now under the charge of Mrs. Thornton and Miss Gibson, be, at their request, transferred to the Connexion, to be settled and managed as the Conference may direct.

APPENDIX III.

MEETING OF THE COMMITTEE OF REVIEW CHAPEL AFFAIRS,

HELD IN BURSLEM, JULY 20TH, 1870.

PRESENT, the Rev. Dr. Jobson, President of the Conference, in the Chair; the Rev. John Farrar, Secretary of the Conference; the Rev. Samuel Romilly Hall, Ex-President; the Revs. John Bedford and William Edwards, Secretaries of the Committee; the Revs. C. Prest, W. Arthur, M.A., J. Rattenbury, Dr. James, W. Shaw (A), Dr. Osborn, W. W. Stamp, Dr. Waddy, H. Hastling, Thomas Vasey, Charles Povah, John C. Pengelly, H. W. Williams, Dr. Scott, Edward Nye, and other Ministers.

Also, Messrs. W. F. Newton, J. Berrie, J. Napier, Isaac Holden, W. W. Cannon, G. Knowles, R. B. Brierley, J. Edge, S. Edge, W. Cooper, A. Shaw, J. Barlow, J. Chubb, T. Percival Bunting, J. R. Kay, E. Bainbridge, Thomas W. Heaton, and others.

Of the Report of the Chapel Committee for the year 1869–70, which was read by the Rev. John Bedford, the following is an abstract:—

The Income from all Sources is £7,544. 6*s*. 4*d*., being a decrease of £32. 13*s*. 7*d*., which is accounted for by the extreme severity of the weather when many of the Public Collections were made. The Income of the "North Wales Chapel Fund," during the year amounts to £563. 9*s*., being an increase of £18. 5*s*. 8*d*.

1. BUILDING DEPARTMENT.

Erections sanctioned.

Since the Conference of 1869, the following cases have been sanctioned: 138 Chapels, at an estimated cost of £142,561; 16 Ministers' houses, £13,626; 28 Schools, £8,409; 68 Enlargements and Alterations, £30,037; 83 Modifications of cases previously sanctioned, at an estimated additional outlay of £20,543; 27 Organs, £5,545 total cases, 360, outlay, £220,724. Upon all the classes of the cases sanctioned, there is an increase of 54 cases, and of £27,753 in proposed outlay. 73 of the the chapels, to accommodate 18,472 hearers, are to be erected where hitherto there has been no Wesleyan chapel. The temporary debt sanctioned upon all the cases is £42,681, being 19¼ per cent on the entire outlay.

Aid promised.

The Committee have promised during the year £3,025 in Grants, and £4,990 in Loans, to 127 chapels, on condition that the Trustees fulfil the terms agreed upon. Unless the means at the disposal of the Committee for this purpose be considerably increased, it will become absolutely necessary to reduce the scale on which help has hitherto been promised.

Sales.

In the past year the Committee have sanctioned 46 sales, including 27 chapels, 1 chapel and house united, 1 minister's house, 2 other house properties, 2 school-rooms, 10 plots of land, 1 site of old chapel, 1 exchange of land, 1 transfer from chapel to school trustees.

Erections completed.

The following is a summary of the cases returned through the May District Meetings as completed:—89 chapels, at a cost of £121,677; 7 ministers' houses, £3,620; 22 schools, £9,913; 54 enlargements and alterations, £18,920; 18 organs, £3,908; total, 190 cases, completed according to the terms agreed upon with the Committee, at a cost of £158,038; being £13,738 more than the sum reported last year. The debt remaining is £21,878. In 65 other cases the conditions agreed upon have not been fulfilled. The outlay upon these cases has been £60,893. Debts sanctioned were £12,113, but the actual debts reported are £22,666, being an excess of £10,553. On the total outlay the debt is, £37¼ per cent. 22 additional cases have been undertaken without Connexional sanction, at a cost of £9,868, upon which the debt is, £2,620, being 26½ per cent of the outlay.

Aid afforded.

During the year £2,248 in Grants, and £3,550 in Loans, have been paid from the Erections' Fund towards the cost of 57 chapels.

Entire Cost.

The entire cost of all erections and enlargements, regular and irregular, reported this year as completed, has been £228,799. This sum is the largest, with one exception, ever reported in one year.

II. RELIEF DEPARTMENT.

(1.) Grants.

To aid in the removal of debt on 108 chapels, the Committee have paid in grants, during the past year, the sum of £2,825. On 34 of these chapels no debt remains.

(2.) Loans.

The Loan instalments received during the year, have amounted to £6,098. 8s. on the Relief-Fund account, and £644 on the Erections-Fund account. The total number of Loans now in operation is 356. Loans amounting to £10,186, to meet £10,956, have been advanced to the Trustees of 95 chapels. Of these chapels, 54 are now free from debt, except the Loans. The North and South Wales Committees have advanced in Grants, £60, and in Loans, £545, to meet £649 raised by Trustees.

III. LOCAL EFFORTS AND SURPLUS INCOME.

During the year the sum of £25,367 6*s.* 10*d.* has been paid off by local efforts and surplus income.

Contributions to Circuit Funds.

Two thousand one hundred and five chapel trusts have contributed £21,704. 4*s.* 4*d.*, being an increase of 155 trusts, and of £1,830. 19*s.* 1*d.* in amount.

SUMMARY OF DEBTS DISCHARGED.

The following is the total amount of debts which have been either entirely discharged, or for the progressive extinction of which definite arrangements have been made :—

	By aid of Grants.	By aid of Loans.	Exclusively by local efforts and surplus income.	Totals.
In 1869–70	£14,411	£21,792	£25,367	£61,570
From 1854–69...	191,286	324,077	192,200	707,563
Total.....	£205,697	£345,869	£217,567	£769,133

TOTAL OF ASCERTAINED OUTLAY.

If to the sum of £61,570, applied to the reduction or extinction of debts, there be added £228,799 expended in new erections and enlargements, it will appear that the aggregate amount expended during the year on Wesleyan Trust-property, is £290,369. The amount actually contributed, including Grants from Connexional Funds, is £228,256. This total exceeds that of any former year.

IV. REGISTRATION OF TRUST-DEEDS.

During the year, 50 Trust-Deeds have been received for registration by the Committee, making a total of 78 so registered.

V. GENERAL MANAGEMENT OF TRUST ESTATES.

The Returns presented to the Committee show that the number of Trusts whose expenditure exceeds the income is yearly decreasing. Taking the entire number of 5,976 Trusts returned, there is a net surplus of more than £6,000, to be used for the reduction of debt, the improvement of the Trust Properties, or to aid in the erection of Chapels. The Committee are glad to report an increase of 126 in the number of Trust Estates insured against loss by fire. The District Committees urge the timely renewal of Trusts; the proper custody of Trust Deeds; Anniversary Services, even where there is no debt; the due use of all balances for the reduction of debts; the inexpediency of contributing out of Trust Funds towards the cost of musical instruments; and the importance of holding an Annual Meeting of the Trustees of every Trust.

Particulars in reference to each of the foregoing departments will be found in the Report of the Committee, which will be issued in the course of the year.

The following Resolutions were adopted:—

Moved by the Rev. C. Prest; seconded by Mr. John Radmall, of London; and supported by Mr. G. Smith, of Leeds:

1. This Meeting rejoices to learn from the Report now read that the year has been characterized by remarkable progress in every branch of the work confided to the Chapel Committee, and that the liberality of the Methodist people has been signally manifested, both in reducing old debts, and in securing new and suitable Chapels and other Trust property.

Moved by Mr. G. Knowles, of Bolton; seconded by the Rev. Dr. Rigg; and supported by Mr. J. R. Kay, of Summerseat:

2. That this Meeting would have been yet more gratified had there not been so large a number of cases n which Trustees, by failing to fulfil the conditions of erection agreed upon, have incurred responsibilities of a very serious character, and other cases in which parties have built without Connexional sanction, and have thus set an example prejudicial to the well-being of the Connexion.

Moved by the Rev. Dr. Osborn,; seconded by Mr. I. Holden, of Oakworth; and supported by Mr. J. Barlow, of Bolton:

3. That, looking at the continually enlarging scale of the operations of the Committee, and their urgent want of increased resources to enable them to meet to a larger extent the appeals made to them for help, this Meeting strongly urges, both upon private individuals, and upon bodies of Trustees, throughout the Connexion, the importance of increasing the Chapel Fund by annual subscriptions.

Moved by Mr. R. Haworth, of Manchester; seconded by the Rev. C. Haydon; and supported by Mr. Pethybridge, of Launceston, and Mr. A. Shaw, of Burslem:

4. That, having regard to the growth and consolidation of the work of God by means of Methodism, this Meeting affectionately recommends all Trustees to give the greatest possible attention to the successful working of their respective Trusts, with a view to obtain therefrom, as speedily as possible, surplus income, and to apply it for the extension of that work, in their respective Circuits, and in the Connexion at large.

Moved by the Rev. Dr. Waddy; seconded by Mr. Ingram, of the Isle of Wight; and supported by Mr. Chubb, of London, and Mr. Bridge, of Conway:

5. That the thanks of this Meeting be presented to the District Chapel Secretaries and Committees, the Circuit Chapel Secretaries, and to the Ministers and Trustees who have acted with them, for their valuable services to this department of Methodism.

Moved by the Rev. G. T. Perks, M.A.; seconded by Mr. R. B. Brierley, of Manchester; and supported by Mr. Joseph Edge, of Burslem:

6. That the thanks of the Meeting are due, and are hereby presented, to Messrs. Fernley and Healey, the Treasurers ; to the Rev. Messrs. Bedford and Edwards, the General Secretaries; and to the Committee; for their diligent and faithful services.

N.B. The lay members of the Chapel Committee were nominated according to rule.

APPENDIX IV.

MEETING OF THE COMMITTEE OF THE HOME-MISSION AND CONTINGENT FUND,

HELD AT BURSLEM, ON THURSDAY, JULY 21ST, 1870.

MEETING OF THE COMMITTEE OF THE WORN-OUT MINISTERS' AND MINISTERS' WIDOWS' AUXILIARY FUND,

HELD IN BURSLEM, JULY 18TH, 1870.

The President of the Conference in the Chair.

THE following Resolutions were unanimously adopted:—

Moved by Mr. John Napier; seconded by Mr. George Smith:

1. That this Committee, having heard the financial statement of the Treasurers, is gratified by the prospects of the Fund, and recommends to the Conference that an addition of £1 be made to the present allowances for every year beyond thirty-nine years that each Minister, being a Supernumerary, has travelled; and that £1 for every Widow, without distinction of years, be made for this year: but that it appears to this Committee desirable that the entire scale of payments from the Fund should be re-considered and re-adjusted, and that the relations of the Irish Supernumeraries and Widows to the Fund should also be re-examined.

Moved by the Rev. W. W. Stamp; seconded by the Rev. S. R. Hall:

2. That in the judgment of this Committee, grants from the Worn-Out Ministers' Auxiliary Fund may equitably be appropriated for one year and not for more than two years, towards the support of comparatively junior ministers, who, by affliction, are compelled to retire from the actual duties of the ministry; such grants, in the opinion of this meeting, to be met by similar sums from the Home-Mission and Contingent Fund.

Moved by Mr. Bunting; seconded by Mr. Chubb.

3. That the Conference be requested to consider whether any plan can be adopted, which, without at all interfering with the present mode of managing the business connected with the Fund, will give to the gentlemen attending the various Conference Committees an opportunity of promoting the interests of the Fund.

Moved by Mr. Radmall; seconded by the Rev. John Farrar:

4. That the thanks of this Committee be presented to Mr. John Napier and the Rev. John Rattenbury, the General Treasurers: to the Rev. Henry H. Chettle, the Secretary; also to the District Treasurers, and the Circuit Treasurers; for their services during the past year.

Moved by the Mr. Joseph Edge; seconded by the Rev. Charles Haydon:

5. That the thanks of this Committee be presented to those friends who, during the past year, have generously aided this Fund by special donations: to those Executors who have paid sundry legacies on behalf of this Fund; and to those Trustees who have contributed to it from their chapel income.

Moved by Mr. Chubb; seconded by the Rev. John Bedford:

6. That the thanks of this Committee be presented to Mr. Walter Griffith and Mr. Greaves Walker, for their services as Auditors for the last year; and that they be appointed for the next year.

The number of Day-schools is 746, an increase of 48; Scholars 128,809, an increase of 9,739; average attendance 83,662, an increase of 7,760. The Government Reports, as furnished from 302 Departments, show that for every 100 children in average attendance above six years of age, there are 30 under six. Less than 2 per cent. of the whole are returned as ineligible for Grant under Art. 4, i. e., as children of parents who could afford to pay fully the cost of education. The average Grant per child in average attendance obtained in the 302 Departments is 10*s.* 7½*d.*

The per centages of passes calculated upon the number of children presented for examination are, in Standards I–III, 65·47; in Standards IV–VII, 21·86; in Reading 91·35, in Writing 91·46, and in Arithmetic 79·19. For Inspected Schools in England and Wales the general averages are—Reading 89·97, Writing 88·24, Arithmetic 77·24.

The amount of Government Annual Grants to Wesleyan schools in 1869 was £36,194. 3*s.* 6*d.*, being an increase on the previous year of £3,582. 16*s.* 11*d.* The amount of Building Grants was £50.

Six new inspected Schools were opened during the year in new buildings, twenty-one were commenced in existing buildings, and one was transferred to a new building. Twenty-four Outfit Grants were paid, amounting to £985.

The number of Certificated Teachers employed in Wesleyan Schools on the 31st of December, 1869, was 617; of Assistant-Teachers, 57; and of Pupil-Teachers, 1,085, being an increase for the year of 186.

The usual examination of Pupil-Teachers in Religious Knowledge was held in March last. Proposals for changes in the mode of conducting this Examination have been reported on by the District Meetings, and will be submitted to the Conference for approval.

Fifty Students of the second year, and four of the first year, were appointed to Schools at Christmas last. Seventy-five candidates were admitted, making the number in residence 144, or ten more than the Government number.

Mr. Clulow's Report on Day-schools visited by him was communicated to the Meeting. The General Committee recommended the immediate appointment of a lay Inspector to act under the Committee's direction, and also that Mr. Clulow should be empowered to inspect Day-schools as opportunity may serve.

The revised draft of Rules for Circuit Sunday-School Unions would be presented to the Conference for adoption.

The following Resolutions were unanimously adopted:—

On the motion of Mr. George Lidgett, B.A., of London, seconded by the Rev. E. E. Jenkins, M.A.:

1. The Meeting is thankful to learn that during a year of so much uncertainty the Educational progress of the Connexion has been equal to that of former years, so that the Day-school returns show an increase of 48 Schools, and 9,739 Scholars; and deems it highly desirable that provision should at once be made for the efficient inspection of Wesleyan Day-schools by Connexional Inspectors.

On the motion of the Rev. Dr. G. Scott, seconded by Mr. Napier, of Manchester:

2. The Meeting also learns with thankfulness that there has been an increase during the year of 115 Sunday-schools, and 20,788 Scholars; and, with the conviction that Sabbath-schools will require to be more than ever widely extended and efficiently worked, it expresses the hope that so soon as the Rules for Circuit Unions, about to be presented to the Conference, shall have been duly sanctioned, steps will be taken to form such Unions throughout Great Britain.

On the motion of the Rev. W. Arthur, M.A., seconded by Mr. Edge, of Burslem:

3. The Meeting, having been informed that, notwithstanding the hindrances which have delayed the erection of the New Chapel at Westminster, and the state of public uncertainty which has interfered with the contribution of the necessary funds, the Education Committee has obtained plans, and is preparing to secure tenders for the work, resolves, That the contemplated erection, which has long been necessary, will be more than ever required for the efficient discharge of the educational obligations of the Connexion.

On the motion of the Rev. W. Williams (A), seconded by Mr. T. P. Bunting:

4. That the thanks of this Meeting be presented to the Rev. Dr. Rigg for his valuable services as Principal of the Normal Institution during the year.

John Clulow, the Visitor of Sunday-schools; and to the Members of the Acting Committee, for their faithful services during the past year.
